Hanoi Broadcasts Holiday Messages From U.S. POWs

NEW YORK (AP) — "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. I'm in good health and... full of hope. Hope you'll have a joyous-filled holiday season..."

The message, from an American prisoner of war in North Vietnam to his family, was broadcast by Radio Hanoi Friday. It was monitored in Hong Kong and relayed to the United States.

At least four times within the past eight days Radio Hanoi has broadcast such messages.

American radio networks have broadcast the messages over their facilities and sent them by closed circuit to stations in the filers' hometowns.

The message above was attributed to Air Force Capt. Joe David Luna and a tape was played by CBS News for his wife, Mrs. Pearl Luna of Roy, Utah. The audio quality was poor and Mrs. Luna said she was unable to be sure the voice was that of her husband.

Hanoi Radio said other messages came from Lt. Cmdr. Hugh Allen Stafford of Cambridge, Md.; Capt. Norman McDaniel of Greensboro, N.C.; Capt. James Quincy Collins Jr. of Atherton, Calif.

The Christmas greetings run from 30 to 45 seconds.

CBS Radio has broadcast the messages, usually with comment from the families, over its network. NBC Radio broadcast three of the greetings on its network and is sending them by closed circuit to hometown stations.

ABC Radio is sending the messages to the hometown stations, and in addition is mailing tapes of the broadcasts to the families. The Pentagon also requested copies of the tapes.

Mrs. Jean McDaniel of Greensboro sobbed in relief when CBS News called her with the message from her husband.

"This is the best Christmas present I could give my children because they are always asking me where he is and when he'll be coming home," she said. "At least, now they know that someone he might be coming home."

Yule Kissing Bad News, Medic Says

BOSTON (AP) — A public health official says he hates to be a spoilsport but Christmas kissing should be kept to a minimum this year because it can spread mononucleosis.

Dr. Nicholas J. Flumara, director of the Division of Communicable Diseases in the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, issued the warning Friday.

He said infectious mononucleosis has been reported recently from almost all college infirmaries across the state and among high school students.

Mono is known as the "kissing disease" because it can be spread that way or by sharing a cup or bottle.

Its main symptoms are a sore throat, fever, headache, chills and swollen glands. The temperature may rise to 103, tonsils may become enlarged and some patients develop a rash. The discomfort often lasts about two weeks.

Dr. Flumara had a suggestion. He said Americans could adopt the European custom of kissing on the cheeks instead of the lips.

Viet Reds Hike Troop Flow Despite U.S. 'Slowdown'

U.S. Studies Viet Red Infiltration

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top White House official says a continuation of recent Communist infiltration into South Vietnam during the next seven weeks would be considered disturbing and could signal an early-1970 offensive.

An authority in the foreign policy area, the official was made available to about 50 newsmen for an 85-minute briefing Thursday. Under the rules, his remarks could not be reported until today. All his statements were made in response to questions.

The source said that if North Vietnam continues infiltration during the next seven weeks at the average rate of the last seven, the Nixon administration will conclude it is augmenting its forces in the South rather than replacing losses. He said that could be the prelude to an offensive.

If an offensive develops, however, he said it could not reach the 1968 Tet level which saw the Communists invade Saigon and occupy, if temporarily, such provincial capitals as Hue. He said the enemy could do no more now than cause an increase in U.S. casualties through stepped-up shellings and a series of coordinated attacks.

Some reverses are inevitable as the war continues, he said.

As other administration officials have done, the White House aide credited Nixon with mustering U.S. public opinion in support of administration policy on Vietnam since October.

This source said he still believes a negotiated settlement is more likely than not to occur before the troop withdrawal program is completed.

Efforts to achieve a Middle East settlement also were cited as a major disappointment of 1969, although direct talks on the subject between the United States and the Soviet Union were said to have greatly lessened the chance of a superpower confrontation in that area.

The official said the Soviets are reluctant to recommend any settlement going much beyond the stated positions of their friends in the Arab world. And in any event, he said, Arab-Israeli passions simply may not yield to outside pressure or advice.

The administration also would have hoped for an end to the Nigerian civil war in 1969. The source said the national Security Council met on this subject earlier in the week—a meeting which, it was said, will lead to concrete U.S. steps in 1970.

See Offensive During Early 1970 Period

SAIGON (AP) — The number of North Vietnamese trucks moving supplies south along the Ho Chi Minh trail has increased eight-fold since October, official sources said today.

In October, reconnaissance planes sighted about 250 trucks a week moving through eastern Laos, the sources said, but the number jumped to about 1,000 a week in November when the monsoon season ended and roads became more passable.

In the past two weeks however, more than 2,000 trucks a week have been sighted shuttling supplies south for a possible enemy offensive early next year.

The U.S. Command has stepped up air strikes against the Ho Chi Minh road network, using fighter-bombers and B52s.

In Saigon American troops were warned to stay off the streets this weekend in anticipation of possible terrorist attacks.

Captured enemy documents called for increased attacks this weekend to mark the 23rd anniversary of the opening of the Viet Minh's war against the French and the 9th birthday of the National Liberation Front, political organization of the Viet Cong. In addition, enemy forces have often launched heavy attacks just before holiday truce periods. A rocket attack on Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport Friday was the third incident in Saigon this week spokesmen said there was little activity on the battlefields.

Despite a ban on street demonstrations, several hundred persons marched on the National Assembly building Friday to demand action against three assemblymen accused of being Viet Cong sympathizers. Police stopped traffic to let the demonstrators cross a main street near the assembly building.

With obvious government approval—some of the demonstrators said they had been paid to participate—the crowd smashed open the front doors and invaded the chamber where about 80 assemblymen were meeting. Police took no firm action to halt the protest.

Political observers have viewed charges against the three legislators as part of President Nguyen Van Thieu's campaign against anyone advocating neutralism or a coalition government as a way to end the war.

Snow Falls Over Much Of Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow fell from the Great Lakes to the Appalachians today and rain soaked a large part of the far West.

The last full day of autumn brought occasionally heavy snow to sections of the lower Great Lakes. Up to 3 inches sifted down during the night in portions of Ohio, Pennsylvania and western New England.

A large storm system in the Gulf of Alaska flung rain over much of the West Coast. Occasionally heavy rains were forecast in mountain areas of northern California.

Farther east, the rain turned to snow over the northern Rockies.

Rain also washed portions of the Gulf Coast, sometimes coming in heavy thunderstorms.

Cleer and cold weather dominated the midcontinent and most of the Eastern Seaboard.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 2 below zero at Grand Forks, N.D., to 70 at Key West, Fla.

City Firemen Continue Quest For Wage Hike

Circleville Firemen met with Mayor Richard Gernard, Safety Director Robert Adkins and Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe Thursday in their quest for a wage increase.

Mike Brown, spokesman for the firemen, said they were not concerned with just firemen but with all city employees.

"We don't feel it is right for council to give some departments raises and not others," Brown said.

The biggest complaint of firemen according to Brown is that only 20 per cent of the city income tax is earmarked for the general fund.

BROWN said the tax was instituted by council to help all departments, but the 80 per cent share for capital improvements did not allow this.

Firemen feel the breakdown is not fair and will ask council to change it to a 50-50 breakdown.

Richard Muhleman, a representative of the Ohio Association of Professional Firefighters attended the meeting Thursday.

The firemen have requested a session with Council to discuss the budget and ways of providing wage increases for all departments.

Indict 35 More In Chicago Riots

CHICAGO (AP) — Thirty-five additional persons have been indicted by a special Cook County grand jury in connection with an Oct. 8-11 rampage by the Weatherman faction of Students for a Democratic Society.

In returning the indictments Friday, the grand jury released a five-page report in which it termed the October disorders in Chicago "a planned insurrection—a mob action."

The new indictments raised to 64 the number who have been charged by the grand jury as a result of the violence.

Dayton Newspapers Purchase Big Lot

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton Newspapers, Inc., purchased land at the rear of its present quarters Friday for $2 million at a City Hall auction.

The publisher of the Dayton Daily News and the Dayton Journal Herald was the only bidder. The newspapers plan to use the land to expand production facilities.

AMA Lays Down Rules For Drivers Who Drink

CHICAGO (AP) — A 180-pound man might drink five bottles of beer before he gets drunk, but three bottles would do it to a 120-pounder.

The heftier man might drink five shots of whiskey before falling "under the influence," but four would do for the little one.

And all holiday drinkers should remember that even the "average" drink has a mind-dulling effect for an hour after it is consumed.

These are among the guidelines for drinkers set forth by the American Medical Association and the National Safety Council in a new campaign to teach drinkers how long the effect of a drink lasts and what it does to their driving ability.

They believe the campaign is a more realistic approach to ward drunken driving. More than 25,000 of the 55,200 automobile fatalities in 1968 involved alcohol consumption, and the organizations concede that past campaigns urging drivers not to drink at all have had little effect.

The council and the AMA have prepared charts relating drinks and body size to the degree of intoxication.

Most states consider a person with a 0.15 per cent concentration of alcohol in the blood to be "under the influence." But some states, federal agencies, the AMA, and the Safety Council recommend that a person with a 0.10 per cent alcohol concentration in his blood be presumed "under the influence."

Among "popular alcoholic drinks, beer contains the lowest percentage of alcohol while whiskey and rum have the highest, but—because of the size of the drink—cocktails such as martinis and manhattans are the most intoxicating.

A 120-pound drinker reaches the 0.10 per cent concentration level with slightly more than three bottles of beer. The 180-pound drinker would have to consume five bottles to reach that limit.

Fugitive For 38 Years Freed By Utah Authorities

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — For 38½ years he lived the half-life of a fugitive. Now, wherever he may be and by whatever name, John Q. Harris at last is truly free.

The Utah Board of Pardons has quietly decreed that Harris, called the dean of Utah prison escapees, no longer owes a 1-to-10 year term for writing a bad check.

Harris was 25 when he began serving his sentence in 1931. A month later he fled a work detail and vanished. The search was brief, and the escape became only a statistic.

Then in October of this year Warden John W. Turner received a telephone tip that Harris was living in Ambler, Pa. Checking old files, Turner verified the long-forgotten escape.

Utah's board of collections decided to ask Pennsylvania authorities to check Harris' record in the years since the escape, but officials there say the request never came through.

Instead, Warden Turner got a phone call from Harris, and a letter, Harris, now near age 63, said he had led a decent life over the years, and wanted only to be let alone.

Turner complied.

On Dec. 12, the Board of Pardons terminated Harris' sentence. The action was not reported until this week when a reporter asked about the case.

Ernest Dean Wright, director of the Board of Corrections, says there was practical reason for freeing Harris: prison is supposed to rehabilitate men. But freedom has already accomplished that.

"His record is clean," Wright said.

Harris' crimes were never major. Sketchy prison records

Dayton Education Worker Is Fired

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Dayton Board of Education fired Art Thomas, head of the city's Model City Educational Component, Friday on recommendation by School Supt. Wayne Carl.

Thomas, a black militant, has had several complaints lodged against him since disturbances at the beginning of the fall term at Stivers High School.

Congress Pushes Money Bills Before Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — About $1.5 billion was cut from a bill threatened with presidential veto as Congress voted and debated its way into weekend session and final action on tax reform and most appropriations.

Presidential veto warnings still stood for the massive tax package and the Health, Education and Welfare Department appropriation which was cut $1.5 billion to $20 billion.

However Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the tax package as presented Friday for final action would be difficult for President Nixon to veto.

Democratic senators indicated after a caucus they may work toward putting off a vote on the HEW measure until after the holiday recess. This would prevent a pocket veto by the President.

Every taxpayer would benefit by an increase in the personal exemption, starting in mid-1970. The exemption progresses from $600 to $750 by 1973. A 15 per cent hike in Social Security benefits is there for one of every eight residents of the United States.

The oil depletion allowance, a tax reform symbol, would be reduced from 27½ per cent to 22 per cent. Tax free municipal bonds were left that way.

Others facing tax increases include those with considerable capital gains income, hobby farmers, real estate operators using speeded up depreciation, and individuals who profit by charitable donations of such value-appreciated property as paintings.

To trim the measure $1.5 billion, $1.1 billion was taken away from advance public school funding for 1971. Nixon favors this. The balance of the cut came at the expense of antipoverty and various health and education programs.

Another conference approved a two-year $5 billion extension of the antipoverty program. Cut out was the controversial Senate amendment giving governors a veto over legal services programs.

Both houses approved Friday a compromise $1.97 billion spending level for foreign aid. A conference compromised on the companion bill providing $1.86 billion in appropriations.

Other actions Friday:

—Nixon appealed for rejection of an appropriation bill rider which would bar implementation of an administration plan to encourage the employment of Negroes in federally financed construction work.

—Both branches approved a $6.6-billion appropriation for the Department of Transportation, including $85 million for development of the supersonic transport plane.

—The House and the Senate cleared a $1.6 billion military construction appropriation.

—The Senate and House approved a compromise bill giving the President authority to impose credit controls, and increasing from $1 billion to $4 billion the Treasury borrowing authority of the home loan bank board. The administration has said it will not use the authority anyhow.

Then in October of this year Warden John W. Turner received a telephone tip that Harris was living in Ambler, Pa. Checking old files, Turner verified the long-forgotten escape.

Utah's board of collections decided to ask Pennsylvania authorities to check Harris' record in the years since the escape, but officials there say the request never came through.

Instead, Warden Turner got a phone call from Harris, and a letter. Harris, now near age 63, said he had led a decent life over the years, and wanted only to be let alone.

Turner complied.

On Dec. 12, the Board of Pardons terminated Harris' sentence. The action was not reported until this week when a reporter asked about the case.

Ernest Dean Wright, director of the Board of Corrections, says there was practical reason for freeing Harris: prison is supposed to rehabilitate men. But freedom has already accomplished that.

"His record is clean," Wright said.

Harris' crimes were never major. Sketchy prison records from 1931 suggest that Harris, from rural southern Utah, got in trouble for checks covering only small amounts. There are indications that his communications with the warden told of illness and depression—time poverty.

And his punishment was not light. "After all," said Wright, "this man spent one month in prison—and 38 years looking over his shoulder."

Congress Pushes Money Bills Before Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — About $1.5 billion was cut from a bill threatened with presidential veto as Congress voted and debated its way into weekend session and final action on tax reform and most appropriations.

Presidential veto warnings still stood for the massive tax package and the Health, Education and Welfare Department appropriation which was cut $1.5 billion to $20 billion.

However Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the tax package as presented Friday for final action would be difficult for President Nixon to veto.

Democratic senators indicated after a caucus they may work toward putting off a vote on the HEW measure until after the holiday recess. This would prevent a pocket veto by the President.

Every taxpayer would benefit by an increase in the personal exemption, starting in mid-1970. The exemption progresses from $600 to $750 by 1973. A 15 per cent hike in Social Security benefits is there for one of every eight residents of the United States.

The oil depletion allowance, a tax reform symbol, would be reduced from 27½ per cent to 22 per cent. Tax free municipal bonds were left that way.

Others facing tax increases include those with considerable capital gains income, hobby farmers, real estate operators using speeded up depreciation, and individuals who profit by charitable donations of such value-appreciated property as paintings.

To trim the measure $1.5 billion, $1.1 billion was taken away from advance public school funding for 1971. Nixon favors this. The balance of the cut came at the expense of antipoverty and various health and education programs.

Another conference approved a two-year $5 billion extension of the antipoverty program. Cut out was the controversial Senate amendment giving governors a veto over legal services programs.

Both houses approved Friday a compromise $1.97 billion spending level for foreign aid. A conference compromise on the companion bill providing $1.86 billion in appropriations.

Other actions Friday: —Nixon appealed for rejection of an appropriation bill rider which would bar implementation of an administration plan to encourage the employment of Negroes in federally financed construction work.

—Both branches approved a $6.6-billion appropriation for the Department of Transportation, including $85 million for development of the supersonic transport plane.

—The House and the Senate cleared a $1.6 billion military construction appropriation.

—The Senate and House approved a compromise bill giving the President authority to impose credit controls, and increasing from $1 billion to $4 billion the Treasury borrowing authority of the home loan bank board. The administration has said it will not use the authority anyhow.

Report Bunker
To Be Relieved
From Viet Post

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS News says the White House has agreed to relieve Ambassador to South Vietnam Ellsworth Bunker of his post.

However, State Department and White House spokesmen in Washington said they could not confirm the CBS report.

The CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite quoted White House sources Friday as saying President Nixon has agreed to let Bunker go as soon after the New Year as possible.

The report said the White House has discouraged speculation that Bunker might go to the Paris Peace Talks as a replacement for former chief negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge.

Prostitution Law
Struck Down
In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati police said they will seek a meeting with the city's law department after a Hamilton County Municipal Court Judge Friday declared the city's law banning common prostitution was unconstitutional.

"I don't think the decision will turn Cincinnati into an open city, however," said Cincinnati Safety Director Henry Sandman.

The city ordinance gave police power to arrest known prostitutes who were jailed and checked for diseases.

Judge Rupert Dean said the law was unconstitutional in dismissing the case of an 18-year-old girl whose attorney argued that the ordinance was vague and gave police wide latitude to arrest women.

Judge Dean said prostitution arrests could only be made when they are "accompanied by an overt act."

Tax Reform Bill Set For Passage Before Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — A huge tax bill cracking down on many preferences but also passing out extensive tax cuts and social security benefits is set for final passage in Congress before Christmas.

It would boost the personal income tax exemption from the current $600 to $750 over the next three years, raise Social Security benefits to some 25 million Americans by 15 per cent across the board and ease tax rates for single persons.

President Nixon, committed to a surplus budget to fight inflation, said previously he would veto a too-generous tax measure. His remarks apparently were aimed at the bill as passed by the Senate which voted on $800 personal exemption.

After a Senate-House conference committee completed work on the measure Friday, it came much closer in its revenue effect to an earlier House version. Nixon indicated he would accept. Moreover, it provides a surplus of revenue in the two years the President is most concerned about—$6.47 billion in 1970 and $288 million in 1971—although the projections show a net loss later.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

The administration fought the increase in the personal tax exemption to the end. This provision would raise the exemption for taxpayers and dependents to $850 as of next July 1, to $700 in 1972 and to $750 in 1973.

This would mean a family of four would increase its exempt income by $600 in 1973. This would mean a savings of $132 in taxes for the family of four in the 22 per cent marginal bracket.

The Social Security increase is 5 per cent higher than the administration proposed, but the conference committee eliminated $2.2 billion in additional features the Senate had voted.

Another costly Senate item sliced out of the bill was a provision to allow tax credits for college expenses.

Revenue-producing features of the measure would reduce the oil and gas depletion allowance from 27½ per cent to 22 per cent, increase taxes on large capital gains, set a minimum tax on preference income of high-bracket taxpayers, and trim a variety of other advantages, including hobby farming and big charitable gifts of value-appreciated property.

It also would reveal the 7 per cent investment credit for business—and extend the surtax at 5 per cent for six months—two actions Nixon recommended.

The bill also provides a special low income allowance taking some 5 million families off the tax rolls and reducing taxes for many others.

Texavers who claim a standard deduction rather than itemizing deductions also benefit. The current 10 per cent deduction with a $1,000 limit would be raised to 13 per cent with a $1,400 ceiling in 1970. It would go up to 14 per cent with a $1,500 limit in 1971 and the following year the percentage would remain the same but the ceiling would be raised to $2,000.

The conferees threw out of the bill all House provisions seeking to place some tax on the income from state and local bonds. Such income now is tax-exempt and recipients do not even have to include it on returns.

Thus, although one of the purposes of the bill is to try to make certain every American with sufficient income pays some tax, a person of great wealth can escape any levy if he puts his money in state and local bonds.

TODAY In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal treasury was $162 million fatter at the end of the 1969 fiscal year than the government had first figured, it has been learned.

The Treasury Department announced Friday the budget surplus for the 12 months ending last June 30 was $3.236 billion, up from the $3.074 billion estimated in July.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's savings and loan associations will be allowed to hike the interest rates for their largest depositors from 5.25 per cent to 6 per cent, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board has announced.

The new rates will be available to depositors on record last Monday who had accounts of $10,000 or more provided they agree to leave the money for at least two years. The move is an effort to make more money available for longer periods of time.

Authority to issue the new certificates expires next July 31.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro Agnew has painted a rosy picture of the Nixon administration's first 11 months in office to a meeting of 138 Cabinet and high level executive branch officials.

Speaking in the White House Friday Agnew told the policy makers the high moral tone of the administration has seen "respect for the presidency itself increased."

Agnew said the administration is "moving straight ahead and will continue to move straight ahead" on foreign and domestic affairs. He praised the sub-cabinet members present, saying perhaps the effectiveness of their superiors was a reflection of their work during the year.

Capital Quote

"The snow job the White House has been able to work on the American people has given the impression that Congress is spending money like a drunken sailor. This is not true." — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., discussing an appropriations bill Friday.

Republican Sens. George Murphy of California and Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, whose states will be represented in the Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day have made a friendly wager on the outcome of the contest. If the University of Michigan wins, Murphy, a former actor and dancer, must do a soft shoe routine at a U of M alumni gathering and if USC wins Griffin will have to sit through an entire late evening television rerun of an old Murphy movie.

Schob suffered lacerations of the nose and cheek but refused treatment.

Report Bunker To Be Relieved From Viet Post

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS News says the White House has agreed to relieve Ambassador to South Vietnam Ellsworth Bunker of his post.

However, State Department and White House spokesmen in Washington said they could not confirm the CBS report.

The CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite quoted White House sources Friday as saying President Nixon has agreed to let Bunker go as soon after the New Year as possible.

The report said the White House has discouraged speculation that Bunker might go to the Paris Peace Talks as a replacement for former chief negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge.

LARRY JOHNSON

Services for Petty Officer First Class Larry R. Johnson, 35, a former Laurelville resident, who died Dec. 14, in an aircraft crash in Vietnam, will be held 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Defenbaugh Funeral Home, with Rev. Lynn Summers officiating. Burial will be in Green Summit Cemetery, Adelphi.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 2-9 p.m. Sunday and Monday. The casket will be open during visiting hours Sunday only.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Margaret Binkley Johnson, Laurelville; his widow, Joyce; three children, Gregg and Pam of Reynoldsburg and Jill, Imperial Beach, Calif.; a brother, Johnny Johnson, 137 Watt St.; and a sister, Mrs. Violet Parsons, Kingston.

Johnson joined the National Guard in 1951 and enlisted in the Navy in 1959. In July 1967, he transferred to a helicopter instruction rescue air crew with his squad.

He received many honors for his service, including the Good Conduct Medal, Bronze Star, National Defense Service Medal, the Vietnam Service Medal with a Bronze Star, a Vietnam Campaign Medal with a Purple Heart, Combat Action Ribbon and the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Prostitution Law Struck Down In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati police said they will seek a meeting with the city's law department after a Hamilton County Municipal Court Judge Friday declared the city's law banning common prostitution was unconstitutional.

"I don't think the decision will turn Cincinnati into an open city, however," said Cincinnati Safety Director Henry Sandman. The city ordinance gave police power to arrest known prostitutes who were jailed and checked for diseases.

Judge Rupert Dean said the law was unconstitutional in dismissing the case of an 18-year-old girl whose attorney argued that the ordinance was vague and gave police wide latitude to arrest women.

Judge Dean said prostitution arrests could only be made when they are "accompanied by an overt act."

Tax Reform Bill Set For Passage Before Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — A huge tax bill cracking down on many preferences but also passing out extensive tax cuts and social security benefits is set for final passage in Congress before Christmas.

It would boost the personal income tax exemption from the current $600 to $750 over the next three years, raise Social Security benefits to some 25 million Americans by 15 per cent across the board and ease tax rates for single persons.

President Nixon, committed to a surplus budget to fight inflation, said previously he would veto a too-generous tax measure. His remarks apparently were aimed at the bill as passed by the Senate which voted on $800 personal exemption.

After a Senate-House conference committee completed work on the measure Friday, it came much closer in its revenue effect to an earlier House version. Nixon indicated he would accept. Moreover, it provides a surplus of revenue in the two years the President is most concerned about—$6.47 billion in 1970 and $288 million in 1971—although the projections show a net loss later.

The administration fought the increase in the personal tax exemption to the end. This provision would raise the exemption for taxpayers and dependents to $650 as of next July 1, to $700 in 1972 and to $750 in 1973.

This would mean a family of four would increase its exempt income by $600 in 1973. This would mean a savings of $132 in taxes for the family of four in the 22 per cent marginal bracket.

The Social Security increase is 5 per cent higher than the administration proposed, but the conference committee eliminated $2.2 billion in additional features the Senate had voted.

Another costly Senate item sliced out of the bill was a provision to allow tax credits for college expenses.

Revenue-producing features of the measure would reduce the oil and gas depletion allowance from 27½ per cent to 22 per cent, increase taxes on large capital gains, set a minimum tax on preference income of high-bracket taxpayers, and trim a variety of other advantages, including hobby farming and big charitable gifts of value-appreciated property.

It also would reveal the 7 per cent investment credit for business and extend the surtax at 5 per cent for six months —two actions Nixon recommended.

The bill also provides a special low income allowance taking some 5 million families off the tax rolls and reducing taxes for many others.

Taxpayers who claim a standard deduction rather than itemizing deductions also benefit. The current 10 per cent deduction with a $1,000 limit would be raised to 13 per cent with a $1,400 ceiling in 1970. It would go up to 14 per cent with a $1,500 limit in 1971 and the following year the percentage would remain the same but the ceiling would be raised to $2,000.

The conferees threw out of the bill all House provisions seeking to place some tax on the income from state and local bonds. Such income now is tax-exempt and recipients do not even have to include it on returns.

Thus, although one of the purposes of the bill is to try to make certain every American with sufficient income pays some tax, a person of great wealth can escape any levy if he puts his money in state and local bonds.

Coal Mine Safety Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite Republican warnings of a veto, Congress has sent to the White House a tough safety bill for the nation's 140,000 coal miners.

Chief targets in the bill are mine explosions and the dreaded "black lung" disease, daily threats in some 140,000 coal mines.

Before passage Thursday night, the administration made known its objection to one major provision of the bill: federal payments to miners disabled by black lung.

A disabled miner with a wife and two children would receive $272 a month. The administration contends this will cost $385 million a year. Democrats put the figure at $60 million.

Payments should be handled by states, GOP congressmen said. Democrats argued that most states have demonstrated they would not pay.

"Shabby treatment indeed for our nation's coal miners," said Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., of the administration position.

Findlay Blaze Being Probed

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Losses in Tuesday night's Ashland Oil and Refining Co. fire may reach $1 million.

Findlay Fire Chief Homer Johnson and Ashland officials made the mistake Thursday night after taking a closer look at the damage to buildings in the Ashland complex.

Original estimates of the loss were $250,000.

Investigators from the State Fire Marshal's office are expected to conduct an investigation.

School Order Is Protested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louisiana school officials have asked the Supreme Court to recall, as a "Christmas present" for whites and blacks, recent desegregation orders.

Instead, they said in a plea filed late Thursday, the court should hold an emergency hearing on the school desegregation situation throughout the entire region—Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Florida and Texas.

Should the court agree, school districts should be free of any requirement to desegregate student bodies by Feb. 1. But all schools in the six states could find themselves compelled to desegregate in September.

The Louisiana officials said an order Saturday requiring immediate preparations for desegregation has created "a state of absolute emergency" in West Feliciana, East Feliciana and Concordia parishes.

A Feb. 1 deadline, which is being pushed by civil rights lawyers and several black families, would "totally disrupt the educational process," the officials said.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Supreme Court Justice C. William O'Neill may run again for the Republican nomination for governor, according to published reports.

O'Neill, 53, was governor in 1957-58, but was defeated for reelection in 1958. The speculation was based on the fact O'Neill has failed to include an election petition along with other Republican Supreme Court candidates to county party chairmen.

I have often invited married couples and their families to my home for dinner, but they politely decline for they are not interested in coming to a lady's home where there are only the lady and her children. I have my women friends, and the children have their school friends, but aside from this, we don't even exist.

I once considered joining an organization for parents alone, but when the first invitation

Coal Mine Safety Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite Republican warnings of a veto, Congress has sent to the White House a tough safety bill for the nation's 140,000 coal miners.

Chief targets in the bill are mine explosions and the dreaded "black lung" disease, daily threats in some 140,000 coal mines.

Before passage Thursday night, the administration made known its objection to one major provision of the bill: federal payments to miners disabled by black lung.

A disabled miner with a wife and two children would receive $272 a month. The administration contends this will cost $385 million a year. Democrats put the figure at $60 million.

Payments should be handled by states, GOP congressmen said. Democrats argued that most states have demonstrated they would not pay.

"Shabby treatment indeed for our nation's coal miners," said Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., of the administration position.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY—Susan Denise Atkins, 21, one of six persons indicted in the case in Los Angeles, is returned to her jail cell after pleading innocent to the murders of actress Sharon Tate and six other persons. Her bizarre tale of an orgy of murder enabled police to break the Tate case.

Findlay Blaze Being Probed

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Losses in Tuesday night's Ashland Oil and Refining Co. fire may reach $1 million.

Findlay Fire Chief Homer Johnson and Ashland officials made the mistake Thursday night after taking a closer look at the damage to buildings in the Ashland complex.

Original estimates of the loss were $250,000.

Investigators from the State Fire Marshal's office are expected to conduct an investigation.

School Order Is Protested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louisiana school officials have asked the Supreme Court to recall, as a "Christmas present" for whites and blacks, recent desegregation orders.

Instead, they said in a plea filed late Thursday, the court should hold an emergency hearing on the school desegregation situation throughout the entire region—Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Florida and Texas.

Should the court agree, school districts should be free of any requirement to desegregate student bodies by Feb. 1. But all schools in the six states could find themselves compelled to desegregate in September.

The Louisiana officials said an order Saturday requiring immediate preparations for desegregation has created "a state of absolute emergency" in West Feliciana, East Feliciana and Concordia parishes.

A Feb. 1 deadline, which is being pushed by civil rights lawyers and several black families, would "totally disrupt the educational process," the officials said.

O'Neill May Run For Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Supreme Court Justice C. William O'Neill may run again for the Republican nomination for governor, according to published reports.

O'Neill, 53, was governor in 1957-58, but was defeated for reelection in 1958. The speculation was based on the fact O'Neill has failed to include an election petition along with other Republican Supreme Court candidates to county party chairmen.

Trading Tangle

Thefts of securities in the Wall Street business section are estimated to have risen to $45 million this year, but no one is sure of the exact amount because backlog of paperwork prevents compiling of accurate statistics. Some brokerage house accounts are months behind.

In that chaotic situation, organized crime has seized a golden opportunity. Its operators reportedly have made off with securities that banks and brokerage houses don't even know are missing.

The rise in thefts is not, of course, the only harmful effect of the paperwork jam. Investors are seriously inconvenienced. Some brokers have suffered severe financial losses.

Progress was made early this year in cutting down the jam, partly because stock exchanges and brokerage houses became concerned over the peril of a chain-reaction financial collapse and put into effect steps to hire and train more clerical help.

But it now appears that much of the improvement was due mainly to a falling-off in trading volume.

In October, trading spurted. So did errors and mistakes. And, although the trading pace has since eased off, the backlog of undelivered securities remains intolerably high.

The Securities and Exchange Commission is again alarmed. It has warned Wall Street that a repetition of last year's mess cannot be permitted and adds that unless remedial steps are taken it might invoke antifraud provisions of securities laws against firms which undertake trades on which they can't deliver.

The SEC's concern is justified. Sloppy bookkeeping should not be tolerated in Wall Street any more than it would be in the banking world. The SEC owes it to the public to take stronger action than merely issuing repeated warnings.

Hockey Blacklist

Officials connected with any aspect of U.S. college life would seem to have enough to do without worrying about the national origin of players who make the intercollegiate hockey teams. But this concerns a special committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

It has recommended to the NCAA that by 1973 no more than eight members of U.S. intercollegiate hockey teams be drawn from the ranks of foreign student-athletes. Canadian students are what the committee had in mind, although it did not specifically say so.

Hockey is the national sport in Canada, and it isn't strange that the few American colleges which have hockey teams have a large number of Canadian student-athletes on them.

Barring some of the best players available to a school from the team seems a strange way of promoting hockey as an intercollegiate sport in the U.S.

This is not a sporting proposition, no matter how one looks at it.

Marriage Misconceptions

Americans now suffer from the highest divorce rate in the world, but there may be another side to the coin, as Dr. David R. Mace, executive director of the American Association of Marriage Counselors, asserts.

"Americans," he says, "believe deeply in marriage. More than 90 per cent of all Americans marry at least once in a lifetime, and surely that means something."

Even after a first marriage fails, Dr. Mace notes, six of every seven divorced people remarry. A few generations ago, the ratio of remarriage was only one in three.

The high divorce rate results from Americans expecting much more from marriage than do couples in many other lands, Dr. Mace says. It may be parts of the world the unhappily married simply accept their fate resignedly.

"If you esteem creativity, or the quality of relations between husband and wife," concluded Dr. Mace, "then I think we probably have as high a proportion of really good marriages as any culture I can think of."

That may be part of the explanation. But it seems obvious that many Americans marry with very little understanding of the institution they have entered into. The soap opera version of idyllic romance may be entertaining, but it is not a good training ground for marriage.

Addonizio Enters Plea

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio and reputed Mafia boss Anthony "Tony Boy" Boiardo pleaded innocent Friday to federal charges of extortion and income tax evasion.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge James Coolahan set a period of 45 days for filing defense motions, after which a trial date will be set.

Judge Coolahan set bail for Boiardo at $50,000 and restricted his travel to New Jersey, New York City and Washington, D.C. Federal authorities have been seeking Boiardo for questioning by the federal grand jury which indicted him, the mayor and 13 other persons Wednesday.

Twelve other defendants also pleaded innocent, and the arraignment of the final defendant was set for next week because of his illness.

Addonizio, who is free in $25,000 bail on his own recognizance, was surrounded by political supporters at the court session.

Sen. Robert E. Stockdale, R-3 Kent, chairman of the Legislative Building Committee which recommended the purchase, said the state would save $40,000 by buying the land before the end of the year.

Because of taxes, the owners said they would have to raise the price by that amount after Jan. 1. The land is owned by United Redevelopment Corp.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

"YOU'VE GOT to hand it to these scientists," marveled Rappaport. "I read about one this morning who predicted that by 1972 they'll be able to heat an entire apartment building with a single lump of coal." "By 1972?" sneered Himmelburger. "I've got a landlord who's trying to do it right now!"

When British journalist James Cameron toured Red China recently, a guide with an eye to future tourist trade led him to a corner of the Hunan province to show him a house purported to be the one in which Chairman Mao was born. It sits in a picture-postcard setting in a valley guarded by an elegant mountain and a bubbling stream.

The skeptical Mr. Cameron slyly asked his guide, "Is it true that the government had to search the province for over two years to find such an ideal spot for the birthplace?" "Oh, no," was the serious reply. "It didn't take nearly as long as that!"

QUICKIES:
A big college football team was penalized fifteen yards during the first period of an early-season game for putting the ball in play during a TV commercial.

A woman being wheeled through a hospital corridor was screaming her head off. "Is she about to have a baby?" inquired a visitor. "No," was the reply. "She just saw her bill."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Each moment can be a precious lifesaving one when a sudden, severe heart attack strikes. It is for this reason that intensive care units have been established at most hospitals to quickly and efficiently handle heart and other emergency cases.

Physicians, nurses and hospital personnel are trained specifically in the use of all the equipment that can increase the chances of survival. Now a new brilliant, yet simple device is being tried at The New York Hospital under the guidance of Dr. C. Walton Lillehei, who is one of its creators. This device can now take over pumping action of the heart and the breathing function of the lungs, keeping the severely sick heart patient at complete rest and offering greater chance for complete recovery.

This new heart-lung device was created as a joint effort by doctors and engineers and can be produced so inexpensively that it will be a part of every hospital's facilities. The general principle of the heart-lung machine is to continue to bring oxygen to the blood and remove carbon dioxide from it, taking the burden off the sick patient's heart and lungs which normally do this job.

This new oxygenator is a 12-inch box-like affair that has already proven itself of value in some cases of massive heart attacks. There is a great possibility that the instrument may soon be used in many other medical and surgical emergencies.

Those of us who live in large cities are never impressed by the importance of continuing research against snake venom. Not until we find ourselves far from the concrete and steel of cities and actually see a snake, do we really consider it as a hazard. Yet almost 10,000 people are bitten by poisonous snakes each year.

Dr. Clifford C. Snyder at the University of Utah Medical School and his colleagues have been engaged in active research to produce a snake-bite vaccine to prevent some of the disastrous effects of bites by copperheads, rattlesnakes and other dangerous species. The vaccine, still in an experimental form, has been used with remarkable success in animals. If all the ongoing studies continue to be successful, it is expected that the Food and Drug Administration may soon pass on its value and suggest its use to the general public.

Another significant accomplishment in preventive medicine is the possibility of a new vaccine against syphilis. For the first time, some immunity to this venereal disease has been achieved in experimental animals. Dr. James N. Miller of the UCLA School of Medicine hopes that the next few years will, by clinical trials, support his belief that immunity to syphilis can be developed in humans.

This is particularly hopeful because venereal disease today has reached epidemic proportions all over America.

"Tis the season to be jolly" and the Internal Revenue Service comes out with a new Form 1040. The other man with the beard wants to be remembered, too.

The IRS says the new income tax form is simple. Like anything else after you figure it out.

Income tax time is frustrating. There isn't even a silver lining.

Maybe it would be better if income tax time came the first week in January. At that time we're used to getting along on leftovers.

According To Boyle

By RICHARD BLYSTONE (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — First somebody slipped in from the fire escape, took a swig of orange juice from the kitchen and walked out with our hi-fi in a shopping bag.

Then the table radio slowly skated out of the music and news spectrum and started playing quintets for electric razor and reports from airline pilots. The ancient television screen grew a black border like a condolence card and a neon

The radio-TV repairman looked grave and said there was nothing he could do, not this year anyway.

But we had to face up to it. We were, as the sociologists would say, electronically disadvantaged. We were a silenced minority.

No more news the minute we wanted it. No more cowboys, no more Mantovani, no more Mozart, no more cultured voices pronouncing Wagner correctly. No more Wagner.

For city folk especially our tubes and speakers are not only entertainment and companionship; they are defense against the tubes and speakers of the neighbors.

At home, instead of eerie silence, there was a selection of sounds from up, down and sideways. The grumble of bass notes through the ceiling gave insight into the tastes of the unknown upstairs neighbor.

Voices through a wall revealed the presence next door of a dog apparently big enough to get his forepaws on the kitchen counter.

And from outdoors came reminders that there were cats abroad even in these concrete canyons, that somebody's home or store was burning, that drivers in the street were cranky and quick on the horn and not home with their feet up.

In short, because it was novel, we were really listening.

All our inventions, Thoreau said, are just improved means to unimproved ends.

But there may come a day when we'll think better of it, leave the window open and slip out for a while on the chance there's a burglar in the neighborhood.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — These are crucial days for the Nixon administration's economic program—a program that has promised much but which has been able to show very little until very recently.

Its purpose is to contain inflation by reducing demands on the economy by consumers, business and government. But business and consumers, while they have lessened their demands, haven't done so markedly.

Prices continue to rise sharply for both business and consumers, although not quite at the same rate that prevailed earlier this year. And there are suspicions that even if the economy cools, prices might continue rising.

Even Nixon's own administration has found it difficult to slow spending.

About $4 billion was pared from budget estimates made by the previous administration. And the President directed another cut of $3.5 billion in outlays, particularly for military affairs.

But, $6 billion has been added this year to the budget for "uncontrollable" items, such as rising interest on the national debt.

Just at the time when, in the President's words, "there is tangible evidence that we are beginning to make some progress," there are indications also that Congress and the people may be getting tired of waiting.

Instead of cooperating with the President, Congress seems intent on passing legislation that might fuel demand. Or at least that is the way the President interprets Congress' intention of raising Social Security benefits by 15 per cent.

The Social Security issue really symbolizes the problem of growing demands for spending and the need for keeping the lid on.

Proponents of an increase argue that it is Social Security recipients and others on fixed incomes who are hurt most by inflation and thus need wage increases. Opponents argue that the increase will only prolong inflation.

A painless cooling off period? For a while some administration figures seemed to think it could be done. But now the raw issues have to be faced and there is no hiding from the realization that there must be pain.

The big challenge to the Nixon program now may be from the people. Are they willing to undergo pain? There are suspicions in Congress that maybe they are not—that the needs of education, for example, might encourage spending rather than restraint.

Even in the Federal Reserve, which regulates the supply of money, there appears to be some dissension. At least two

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board Friday approved the release of $2.9 million for the quick purchase of three adjacent tracts of downtown Columbus land for construction of a new state office building.

Although costs for the tracts across Broad St., north of the Statehouse was only $2.6 million, the $300,000 was added to cover incidental costs, such as razing two buildings now on the site.

Police Remove American Flags From Lapels

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police Chief Jacob Schott said Friday that small American flag pins worn on the lapels of police uniforms are considered by the Defense Department as "not proper or desirable."

An opinion on the small pins was sought by Schott from the White House after a controversy flared here. Many policemen were wearing them and there were objections to it.

Schott's letter to the White House was referred to the Department of Defense. A spokesman there wrote that the military is not permitted to wear such emblems.

Since police departments are semi-military organizations they should not display the American flag on their uniforms, Chief Schott said the letter concluded.

This new oxygenator is a 12-inch box-like affair that has already proven itself of value in some cases of massive heart attacks. There is a great possibility that the instrument may soon be used in many other medical and surgical emergencies.

Those of us who live in large cities are never impressed by the importance of continuing research against snake venom. Not until we find ourselves far from the concrete and steel of cities and actually see a snake, do we really consider it as a hazard. Yet almost 10,000 people are bitten by poisonous snakes each year.

Dr. Clifford C. Snyder at the University of Utah Medical School and his colleagues have been engaged in active research to produce a snake-bite vaccine to prevent some of the disastrous effects of bites by copperheads, rattlesnakes and other dangerous species. The vaccine, still in an experimental form, has been used with remarkable success in animals. If all the ongoing studies continue to be successful, it is expected that the Food and Drug Administration may soon pass on its value and suggest its use to the general public.

Another significant accomplishment in preventive medicine is the possibility of a new vaccine against syphilis. For the first time, some immunity to this venereal disease has been achieved in experimental animals. Dr. James N. Miller of the UCLA School of Medicine hopes that the next few years will, by clinical trials, support his belief that immunity to syphilis can be developed in humans.

This is particularly hopeful because venereal disease today has reached epidemic proportions all over America.

"Tis the season to be jolly" and the Internal Revenue Service comes out with a new Form 1040. The other man with the beard wants to be remembered, too.

The IRS says the new income tax form is simple. Like anything else after you figure it out.

Income tax time is frustrating. There isn't even a silver lining.

Maybe it would be better if income tax time came the first week in January. At that time we're used to getting along on leftovers.

There seems to be a resemblance between Uncle Sam and Santa Claus. Uncle Sam looks like Santa Claus after taxes.

Learning to "beat the tax man" seems to be a national game. If you don't learn the lesson right, you stand to stay after school several years.

With taxes as with other affairs, honesty is the best policy. What you don't owe can't hurt you.

According To Boyle

By RICHARD BLYSTONE (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — First somebody slipped in from the fire escape, took a swig of orange juice from the kitchen and walked out with our hi-fi in a shopping bag.

Then the table radio slowly skated out of the music and news spectrum and started playing quintets for electric razor and reports from airline pilots. The ancient television screen grew a black border like a condolence card and a neon sandstorm blew across the picture. The radio-TV repairman looked grave and said there was nothing he could do, not this year anyway. But we had to face up to it. We were, as the sociologists would say, electronically disadvantaged. We were a silenced minority.

No more news the minute we wanted it. No more cowboys, no more Mantovani, no more Mozart, no more cultured voices pronouncing Wagner correctly. No more Wagner.

For city folk especially our tubes and speakers are not only entertainment and companionship; they are defense against the tubes and speakers of the neighbors.

At home, instead of eerie silence, there was a selection of sounds from up, down and sideways. The grumble of bass notes through the ceiling gave insight into the tastes of the unknown upstairs neighbor.

Voices through a wall revealed the presence next door of a dog apparently big enough to get his forepaws on the kitchen counter.

And from outdoors came reminders that there were cats abroad even in these concrete canyons, that somebody's home or store was burning, that drivers in the street were cranky and quick on the horn and not home with their feet up.

In short, because it was novel, we were really listening.

All our inventions, Thoreau said, are just improved means to unimproved ends.

But there may come a day when we'll think better of it, leave the window open and slip out for a while on the chance there's a burglar in the neighborhood.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — These are crucial days for the Nixon administration's economic program—a program that has promised much but which has been able to show very little until very recently.

Its purpose is to contain inflation by reducing demands on the economy by consumers, business and government. But business and consumers, while they have lessened their demands, haven't done so markedly.

Prices continue to rise sharply for both business and consumers, although not quite at the same rate that prevailed earlier this year. And there are suspicions that even if the economy cools, prices might continue rising.

Even Nixon's own administration has found it difficult to slow spending.

About $4 billion was pared from budget estimates made by the previous administration. And the President directed another cut of $3.5 billion in outlays, particularly for military affairs.

But, $6 billion has been added this year to the budget for "uncontrollable" items, such as rising interest on the national debt. Just at the time when, in the President's words, "there is tangible evidence that we are beginning to make some progress," there are indications also that Congress and the people may be getting tired of waiting.

Instead of cooperating with the President, Congress seems intent on passing legislation that might fuel demand. Or at least that is the way the President interprets Congress' intention of raising Social Security benefits by 15 per cent.

The Social Security issue really symbolizes the problem of growing demands for spending and the need for keeping the lid on.

Proponents of an increase argue that it is Social Security recipients and others on fixed incomes who are hurt most by inflation and thus need wage increases. Opponents argue that the increase will only prolong inflation.

A painless cooling off period? For a while some administration figures seemed to think it could be done. But now the raw issues have to be faced and there is no hiding from the realization that there must be pain.

The big challenge to the Nixon program now may be from the people. Are they willing to undergo pain? There are suspicions in Congress that maybe they are not—that the needs of education, for example, might encourage spending rather than restraint.

Even in the Federal Reserve, which regulates the supply of money, there appears to be some dissension. At least two

CHAPTER 17
A MERRY CHRISTMAS
TO ALL

SANTA went to his house and told Mrs. Claus and all the workers that the Troll had gone and would never return.

"Hooray!" cried Tweedle-knees. "Our troubles are over!"

"No," said Santa. They are just beginning, for there are thousands of children's orders still unfilled and we have to have them ready this very eve. Can we do it?"

"We can do it!" shouted the Santa Land faeries and elves.

Mrs. Claus carried out platter after platter of homemade patty cakes, pan dowdy, cream puffs, macaroons and lady fingers to the shops for the workers. And the whole of Santa Land hummed as the elves hammered wheels on wagons, tuned horns, stitched together stuffed animals, blew up balloons, painted pictures on the front of coloring books and wound up toy engines.

The Puppet Princess straightened out orders from children and checked them off on a master list to be sure no one was forgotten. The Ghost recovered the stolen candy and the doll eyes the Troll had hidden in Santa's cellar.

Booby Bobby hitched the reindeer to the sleigh and tested all the bells. The Prince loaded the sleigh with bag after bag of toys as the workers filled them.

By evening everything was ready. Santa called them together and thanked them for all they had done.

"Every request is filled. The Prince has his bride. The Princess has a new kingdom. The Ghost has a new place to haunt for he has promised to stay here and be our special spook forevermore.

"What about me?" asked Booby Bobby in a very small voice.

"You will come with me," said Santa. "Before this night is over you will have all the friends you want and no one will call you Booby Bobby anymore."

He took the boy in the sleigh with him and off they sailed. They visited every city and town and hamlet in the world and left toys for every child sleeping there.

They came at last to Booby Bobby's town. Now Santa jerked the reindeer reins to make the bells tinkle and jingle. He shook the great bells in his hands and filled the silent night with silvery chimes.

The sleeping children awoke and could not believe their ears. Never had they heard such a sound. They crept to their windows and looked in wonder at Santa Claus and Booby Bobby unloading toys in the great town square.

"Now tell me, Robert Clarence Hector Lee," shouted Santa so all could hear. "Have the children in this town been good this year?"

"Oh yes," replied the boy. "They are always very good."

Every child who heard him breathed easier and thought to himself, "Why, he's not such a boob after all!"

"Are they your friends?" asked Santa in a very loud voice.

"I don't know for sure," said the boy uncertainly.

"Well," boomed Santa, "any friend of yours is a friend of mine and don't let anyone forget it!"

He went from roof to roof and dropped a bag of toys down every chimney. When all was done he left the boy at his door and took off in his sleigh shouting, "Goodbye, Robert Clarence Hector Lee. Bring your friends to see me some time!"

"I will! I will!" called the boy.

All the children shivered in awe and swore they'd be his friend and never call him Booby Bobby again.

"Merry Christmas!" called Santa, flying away. "Merry Christmas to all!"

Living Costs Rise Again In November

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food, clothing, housing and other living costs rose five-tenths of one per cent last month to continue the nation's worst inflation in some 20 years, the government reported Friday.

And, said the Labor Department, some 45 million rank and file workers suffered another drop in pay checks because of shorter production hours, an apparent result of the Nixon administration's anti-inflation policies designed to slow the economy.

The November rise in costs brought the consumer price index to 130.5, meaning it cost $13.05 last month for every $10 worth of typical family expenses in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

"The increase was due mostly to higher prices for food, apparel and nearly all types of consumer services," said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Average pay checks fell 62 cents to $116.63 per week, the second straight monthly drop. After adjustment for the price hikes, the average pay check dropped 1.1 per cent in purchasing power over the month. The average worker's purchasing power was five-tenths of one per cent below a year earlier, and 2.3 per cent below the record high of September, 1968.

Senate Rejects Philadelphia Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to kill the Nixon administration's so-called Philadelphia plan aimed at increasing Negro employment on federally financed construction projects.

In a 52-37 vote Thursday night the Senate overrode the wishes of the administration and approved an appropriations bill amendment that said no money in that measure could be used to finance "any contract or agreement which the comptroller general of the United States holds to be in contravention of any federal statute."

Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats opposes the Philadelphia plan—a requirement that contractors on federal jobs make "good faith" efforts to hire a certain percentage of minority group workers—on grounds it amounts to the use of quotas in employment. Quotas, Staats has said, are outlawed in the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which bars discrimination in hiring on the grounds of race, color, religion, sex or national origin.

Festive Holiday Fare Features Roast Duck

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Here come the holidays and with them come the guests. It's open season for entertaining and festive fare is in order for the hostess who wants a "mostest" rating.

There are countless marvelous meals you can serve for a company dinner but one of my favorites is duck. Not too many people think of it when they entertain. A roast seems easier but actually there's nothing difficult about readying this succulent bird. There are a few points to keep in mind, however:

Be sure to prick the duck all over with a fork before you pop it into the oven so fat will drain off.

Rub the outside of the duck with salt. This helps to make the skin crisp.

Another tip I've discovered. Invert a small pan inside your large baking pan and place the duck on it, so it won't be sitting in its own fat as it cooks.

Don't undercook the bird. A 4-to 5-pound stuffed duckling requires a good 2½ to 3 hours in a 325 F. oven.

You can add fabulous flavor to duck by filling the cavity with sliced oranges, or you can use a stuffing. Corn Bread Dressing is my favorite.

For a grand finale to a duck dinner, try today's Cranberry Steamed Pudding.

ROAST DUCK WITH MUSHROOM CORN BREAD STUFFING

- 1 recipe Mushroom Corn Bread, crumbled
- 4 cups dry bread cubes
- 2 teaspoons monosodium glutamate
- 1 teaspoon celery salt
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups cubed tart apples
- 1½ cups chopped unblanched filberts
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1¼ cups poultry stock
- Two 5 lb. ducks
- 1½ cups apple cider

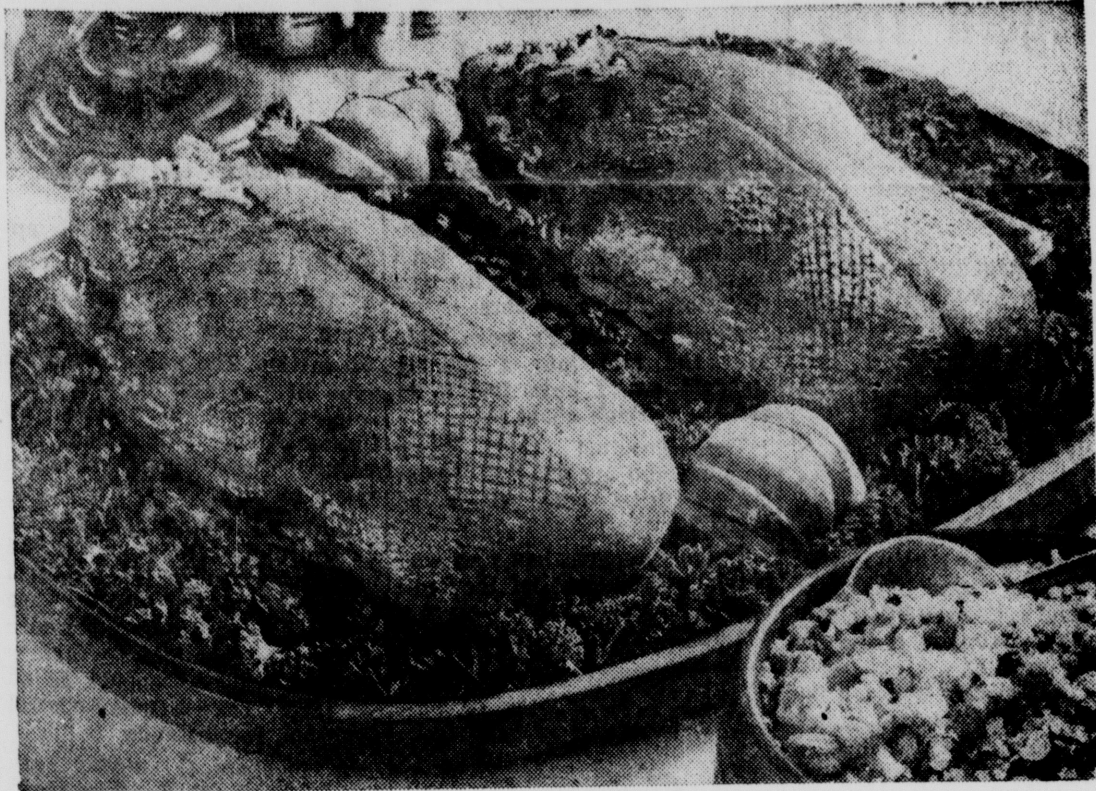

Combine corn bread, bread cubes, monosodium glutamate, celery salt, salt, pepper, apples and filberts in large bowl. Add eggs and stock, tossing lightly.

Lightly stuff dressing into body cavities and neck regions of 2 ducks. Roast ducks according to standard roasting directions, basting every 20 minutes with apple cider. (Do not baste with drippings from ducks.)

Bake remaining dressing in covered 1-qt. casserole during last 45 minutes of roasting time. Serves 6.

MUSHROOM CORN BREAD

- 1½ cups enriched corn meal
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 4 teaspoons baking powder

CONFUCIUS MIGHT SAY — "Duck makes great dinner," for the Chinese were the first to breed ducks for food. In Europe, duck is prized as a great table delicacy.

- 1½ cups chopped green onion
- 1 cup chopped fresh or canned mushrooms, drained
- 1 egg, beaten
- ¼ cup milk
- ¼ cup vegetable oil
- Heat oven to hot (425 degrees F.).

Sift together corn meal, flour, salt and baking powder into bowl. Toss onion and mushrooms with dry ingredients. Add egg, milk and oil; stir to moisten dry ingredients.

Bake in greased 9-inch square baking pan in pre-heated oven (425 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool thoroughly.

CRANBERRY STEAMED PUDDING

- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- ¾ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ½ teaspoon mace
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 2-3 cups quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
- 1¼ cups chopped fresh cranberries
- 1-3 cup butter or margarine
- 2-3 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 cup honey
- 3 eggs, slightly beaten
- ½ cup sour milk

Sift together flour, cinnamon, soda, mace and salt into medium-sized bowl; stir in oats and cranberries.

Beat together butter, brown sugar and honey until creamy; add about 2 minutes. Add creamed mixture, eggs and milk to dry ingredients; blend thoroughly.

Pour batter into well-greased and floured 2-quart mold; seal top tightly with lid or aluminum foil. Place filled mold on trivet or low rack in a very large saucepan or pot; pour enough boiling water in pan to come halfway up the side of the mold. Cover pan and simmer about 2½ hours or until pudding pulls away from the side of the mold. (Add more boiling water when necessary.)

Cool 10 minutes; unmold. Serve warm pudding with hard sauce.

Recipe makes 1 (2 quart) pudding.

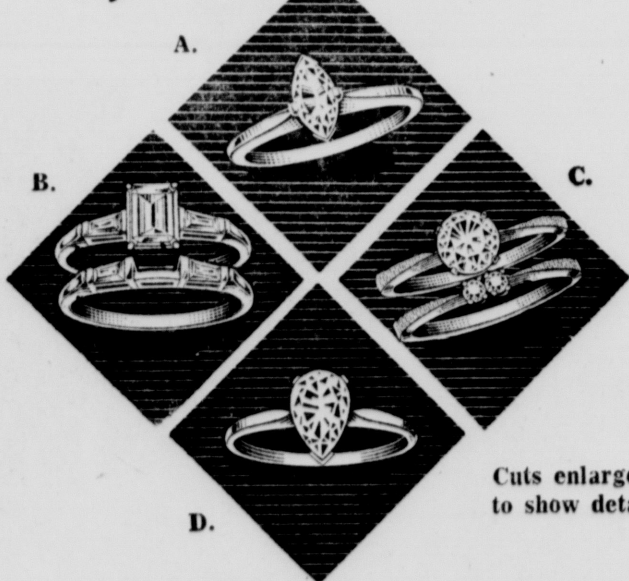

If a ring mold is used, also tightly seal center hole with aluminum foil.

Panther Slaying Probe Ordered By Mitchell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell ordered a Special investigation Friday in the Dec. 4 slaying of two Black Panthers leaders by Chicago police.

Mitchell said the probe will be conducted by a seven-man team of government attorneys and a special federal grand jury in Chicago.

Noting that he ordered a preliminary investigation of the incident a week ago, Mitchell said that investigation failed to produce meaningful results because several unidentified witnesses refused to cooperate voluntarily with federal authorities.

The grand jury approach was adopted, he said, because of its power to subpoena reluctant witnesses.

Noting that he ordered a preliminary investigation of the incident a week ago, Mitchell said that investigation failed to produce meaningful results because several unidentified witnesses refused to cooperate voluntarily with federal authorities.

The grand jury approach was adopted, he said, because of its power to subpoena reluctant witnesses.

Farm Tax Guides Have Arrived

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

The 1969 Farmers Tax Guides have arrived at the Pickaway County Extension Office and copies are available upon request.

This guide explains what income is to be reported, what farm expenses can be deducted, how to claim depreciation, soil and water conservation expenses and how to report your social security tax.

This guide makes every effort to avoid using technical terms and makes explanations easy to read and understand. There are numerous examples throughout the guide to show how tax rules actually apply to farm situations.

Filled in copies of the new tax return, form 1040, the schedule of farm income and expenses, schedule F and other schedules are shown.

BECAUSE good records are so important in preparing your tax return, this new guide stresses the need for good records. Records make it easier to prepare a return, with a minimum of time and a great deal of accuracy.

Uncle Sam doesn't want a cent more than you owe him, but he does want all you do owe him. He doesn't suggest you keep any particular type of record but does suggest a written record of some sort be kept.

This written record should include all transactions involving income, expenses, exchanges, depreciation, and other transactions.

Farmers should save sales slips, invoices, receipts and other papers.

This tax guide and other tax filing forms may be secured at the County Extension Office, at 137 W. Franklin Street in Circleville.

Report Farm Changes To ASCS Office

Changes in the number of acres being farmed can mean changes in farm records at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office.

And that means whenever a farmer buys, sells, leases, rents or otherwise acquires or disposes of farmland, he should drop by the County ASCS Office as soon as possible thereafter to set the records straight, according to Pickaway County ASC Committee Chairman George Stump.

Records are kept in farms participating in programs administered by ASCS. Major ASCS programs in Pickaway County are: Wheat, Feed Grain and the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP).

Stump pointed out that the ASCS Office must keep accurate records on total acreage of all farms where owners or operators participate in any ASCS-administered program. In addition to those named above, ASCS-administered farm programs in Pickaway County include price-support loans on commodities such as soybeans, wheat, corn and oats.

queen contest activities was the present Ohio Pork Queen, Phyllis Pew, of Coshocton, Ohio.

DEBBIE has been a very active Pickaway County Pork Queen and has done a tremendous job of pork promotion locally.

She was elected Pickaway County Pork Queen last December and she will reign until Aug. 4, when a successor will be named during the 1970 County Fair activities.

Debbie has completed eight years of 4-H club work in Pickaway County. She has completed 12 swine projects and 12 home economics projects during her 4-H club work.

She is a 1969 graduate of Logan Elm High School and is presently enrolled at the Chillicothe Branch of the Ohio University.

Average Not Good Enough

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

In today's modern agriculture, average production will not provide the income which most farm families need.

In order to get better production, it becomes necessary to use better than average crop growing practices.

The use of the computer at The Ohio State University soil testing lab enables farmers to fit their soil fertility program to the kind of crop growing program which they wish to follow.

In order to give a tailor-made lime and fertilizer recommendation based upon the program of the farmer, considerable information is needed to go to the lab along with the soil to be tested.

FERTILIZER recommendations are based upon the yield goal of the producer involved, potassium recommendations are based on soil texture, and nitrogen recommendations are based upon the previous crop.

Lime recommendations will vary with plowing depth, with the soil type, pH of the subsoil in that soil type, and the crop being grown.

The soil information sheet which goes to the laboratory needs to be filled out completely in order to give the kind of information that will provide a tailor-made recommendation for the farm operator.

In other words, two samples having the same soil test results can come back with two entirely different lime and fertilizer recommendations based upon the crops to be grown, the yield goal, and other management information provided by the farmer.

Thousands of aged and disabled senior citizens throughout the country will be certain to have warm and nutritious meals on Christmas because of groups known as Meals on Wheels.

Not a once-a-year or holiday-inspired program, Meals on Wheels works the year around, but at Christmas there is a little special effort, and sometimes the food is accompanied by a gift or small token of remembrance for people who frequently are forgotten.

The objective of Meals on Wheels is to feed elderly or incapacitated people who cannot prepare their own meals and have no one living with them or available at meal time to see that they are properly fed. Most of the meals are delivered door-to-door by car or truck.

While not necessarily a poverty program, Meals on Wheels reaches the poor because in many cases it is the lack of money that makes the service necessary for them. Those who cannot pay the small fees are provided free meals.

Inspired by a similar program in England, there are now more than 80 Meals on Wheels groups operating in this country. Many of them participate in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Donated Foods Program and in some cases the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare contributes to the operating costs.

Benefits of the program are not limited to shut-ins, but are extended by some sponsors to those who can't prepare proper meals but can get to a place where they can be served.

In Nashville, Tenn., where Meals on Wheels operated through the physical facilities of a church, there will be a Christmas party in a church building for those elderly and infirm clients who can get there, and those who can't will be remembered at home.

In the Nashville program, six days a week, two meals — one hot and one cold — are cooked and delivered to senior citizens who can't prepare their own. The meals cost about 75 cents each. In addition, there is a weekly bag of fresh fruits.

Particular attention is paid by the Nashville workers to the type of diet needed by the recipients, as well as to their likes and dislikes. Nutrition being important, the dietitian plans special menus for those who are on prescribed diets.

The meals are packed in color-coded plastic containers, to insure error-free delivery.

Like other nonprofit Meals on Wheels operations, the Nashville program has found it is worthwhile to participate in the Donated Foods Program operated by USDA's Food and Nutrition Service, using the same foods made available to low income families.

The Jersey City, New Jersey, Meals on Wheels group is unique in that the Jersey City

Housing Authority provides it with free kitchen space, equipment and utilities in one of its housing projects.

Other groups operate out of churches, club houses, hospitals, and community centers.

Jersey City Meals on Wheels started in June, 1967, as a 16-week pilot program of the city's Community Action Neighborhood Development Organization, "Can Do." The group now relies on "Can Do" and private donations for its financial backing.

Fifty to 70 people between the ages of 60 and 94 eat meals through the program 5 days a week. A typical meal might be chicken, baked potato, peas, bread and butter, rice pudding, and tea. On Fridays a heavy soup is sent along to serve as an extra meal on weekends.

The Lutheran Service Society of Western Pennsylvania formed Meals on Wheels in Pittsburgh in November, 1968. Operating from a local church, 50 volunteers prepare meals for northside Pittsburgh residents.

The New York State Office for the Aging provided a 3-year grant to establish a Meals on Wheels program which operated out of a center located in the Yorkville section of New York City. This service is similar to Pittsburgh's, but meals are prepared for serving in the center's cafeteria as well as for home delivery.

Improved Practices Answer To Higher Corn Yields

By DENNIS WEILNAU
Extension Trainee

During my stay at the Extension Office we have been compiling the results for the 1969 Corn Club members.

Since we haven't been able to make this into a quickly finished job, I have had a lot of time to think about it.

The question that keeps popping into my head is, "What makes these corn yields so high?"

Today's farmer has new and better machinery, but they are mainly just labor saving devices. Therefore the answer must be improved practices.

SOIL testing and then applying proper fertilizer plus hybrid corn are probably two main reasons for increased production. The weather and the type of soil still does a very important job of setting the limits of the production, but beyond these things we have many more.

Different methods of tillage, control of insects, population of corn plants and a weed control program and the weather are things helping to increase yields. But how does the farmer find out what he should do on his farm. Take a weed control program, for instance.

If mechanical means are going to be used, then there are many choices he can make. He can use a sweep type shovel on the cultivator, a tooth type, plus many others. If he decides to use chemical control in his program then he has many more choices.

In naming a few I'm not saying these are the best, but they are the ones I found. Some weed control herbicides for corn are atrazine, simazine, primaz, sutan, ramrod, lora, lasco, knoxweed, randox, randox T, maluron, bladex, and finally 2, 4-D products.

There are more, but my point is how will the farmer know enough about these products in order to select one and use it?

Most industries try to keep secrets about their products, but in the agriculture industry the idea is to get the most information to the agriculturist as possible. In that statement is

"If a farm is constituted differently now than it was when the farmer began program participation — and if he hasn't yet reported the change — then he should drop by the County ASCS Office on his very next trip to town to make the report," Mr. Stump said.

"Also, if a farm has changed owners or operators in that period, a report should be made to the county office," he said.

The ASC Committee Chairman emphasized that changes need be reported only by farmers participating in one or more farm programs administered by ASCS.

Wool Payment Deadline Near

Wool producers are reminded today by George E. Stump, chairman of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee that the important year-end deadline is fast approaching.

Wool and lamb sales made during the 1969 calendar year should be reported in order to be eligible for payments which will be made in the spring of 1970.

Additional information on fulfilling farm program requirements in 1969 is available at the County ASCS Office. Stump said that the ASCS office will be closed Christmas Day, but will be open every other weekday, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The County ASCS Office is located at 1440 N. COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The acquittal of six defendants in the gambling conspiracy trial in U.S. District Court Thursday may not end the local investigation of the case, officials indicated Friday.

Franklin County Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson plans to confer with federal officials to determine whether evidence gathered by Internal Revenue Service agents against Columbus police officers and gamblers should be presented to a county grand jury.

Five policemen and an alleged numbers game operator won acquittal on all counts of a federal indictment from a jury of nine men and three women. Jurors said afterward they felt the government had not produced evidence of any federal violations, but from evidence presented there could have been local and state law violations.

Johnson said he may also study the transcript of the federal trial before making any decisions concerning possible prosecution on state charges.

Police Chief Robert Baus also is studying trial evidence to see if any further action is necessary by his department.

Tigers Lose Fray To Vikings, 84-75

B. BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

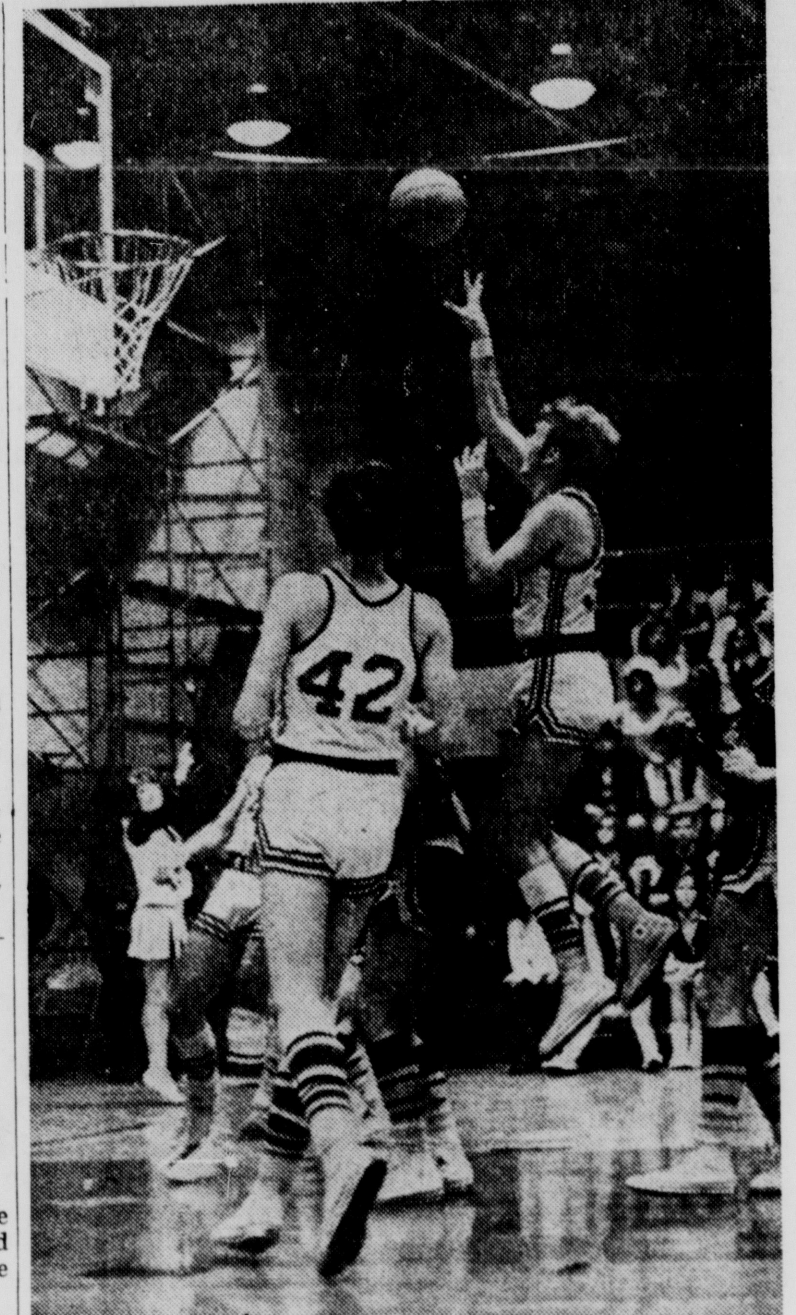

They had quite a battle at the Mill St. gym Friday night and when the clamor had died down Teays Valley was a winner over Circleville 84-75. Whether your team had won or lost you had received full value for the price of your ticket. The noise alone was worth the price of admission as these neighborhood rivals staged a real duel for the fans. The teams were fairly even from the field as the Vikings shot 31 of 65 for 48 per cent while the Tigers hit 29 of 61 for 49 per cent. From the foul stripe Teays remaining in the third period Jackson drew number five and became a spectator. The loss of Jackson may have been a key factor in the fray as he was having a hot hand from the field. Charlie had it six of seven from the field and contributed 12-counters.

Valley hit 22 of 29 for 76 per cent and Circleville had 17 of 29 for 59 per cent.

AIRBORNE DELIVERY — Ty Ankrum of the Tigers is really up in the air as he hits another two points in the battle with the Vikings of Teays Valley. Bryce Brown (42) comes in to give his fellow Tiger a hand if needed. John Glick of the Vikings gets ready to get into the act. Ankrum was the big man for the Tigers with 24-points.

Logan Elm Edges Westfall Before Big Crowd, 77-66

Logan Elm edged Westfall before a capacity crowd at the Mustang gym in a real thriller that was even closer than the final 77-66 score would indicate.

Although Logan Elm led by as many as 14 points midway through the third quarter, the Mustangs managed to knot the score at 53-53 on a bucket by Tom Hawker just as the buzzer sounded ending the quarter.

The Mustangs were first on the scoreboard in the fourth period with a pair of foul shots by Greg Bigam, and led, 55-53. It was the only time in the tilt Westfall led.

Then Logan Elm reeled off 12 points taking a 10 point lead with 4:39 to go in the tilt. Westfall could get no closer than seven after that.

THE score was 19-15 at the end of the first period and 37-33 at halftime.

Midway through the third quarter Logan Elm led by 14 points, 50-36, but the Mustangs battled back to tie the score and then take the lead.

But in the fourth quarter, the only scoring done by Westfall was by Bigam and Bill Blair.

Logan Elm received a balanced scoring effort from nine players, with Dan Fausnaugh pitching in 32. Fausnaugh was popping shots in from the corners, 25 feet out and also led the LE fast break.

He hit 13 of 21 shots from the field and made all six of his chances at the charity stripe.

Mark Kneecce was the only other Brave to hit double figures, connecting on five of nine shots from the field and two of four at the line.

ROD Riddle scored nine points, Dale Hartley and K. C. Jones eight each and Jeff Jones three.

Bigam and Blair led the Mustangs with 20 and 21 points respectively. Tom Hawker got 13, Bruce Beatty and Randy Alkire four, Rick Beatty and Steve Sines two.

Logan Elm controlled the rebounds, a key factor in the game. The Braves pulled 37 off the boards and the Mustangs 27.

From the charity stripe, the Braves made 23 of 31 attempts and Westfall made 32 of 24.

The Braves shot 54 times, making 21, a 39 per cent average. Of the 54 shots that Westfall tried from the field, Blair and Bigam took 43.

Westfall stuck with the man to man defense that has become its trademark throughout the game. Logan Elm used a zone, sagging two men off on Bigam whenever possible to stop him from driving toward the bucket.

KNEEC, the tallest man on the floor at 6-feet 2-inches, was a key man on the Braves' defense, blocking several shots, especially in the final quarter.

Protecting a 10 point lead in the final three minutes of the game, Logan Elm began stalling and the Mustangs were forced to foul the Braves to get the ball.

Westfall's press was instrumental in the third quarter rally, but in the fourth quarter

Logan Elm cagers solved the defense and were not troubled too much with it.

Logan Elm now has a 3-2 record and Westfall has won three and lost four. Although both teams are members of the Scioto Valley conference, the game was not in league battle. The one "that counts" will be played Jan. 23 at Logan Elm.

The little Braves won the preliminary game, 42-32, and that game too was closer than the final score. Steve Fisher paced the winners with 14 points.

Jets, Chiefs Clash Today In New York

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Namath found himself in an unfamiliar situation as he led the New York Jets into today's American Football League play-off showdown against Kansas City.

For the first time in memory, the Jet quarterback went into a critical game with only the second worst underpinning on the field.

The lame left knee of Chiefs' passer Len Dawson commanded the most attention during a week-long buildup to the semifinal elimination scrap at Shea Stadium but Jets Coach Weeb Ewbank has noted up his own casualty list—from the start of the long season—and decided his battered warriors are to be congratulated, win or lose.

"I think it's quite a tribute to our football team that we were able to win our division despite so many injuries," Ewbank said after ticking off the names — Dave Foley, Jim Hudson, Al Atkinson, Larry Grantham, Gerry Philbin, Randy Rasmussen, John Dockery, Don Maynard, and on down the line.

"We've got 16 or 17 people who have missed one game or more," he said. "There's only seven or eight who've played injury-free all year, and only two of those are what you'd call regulars—Jim Turner and Roger Finn."

Turner, New York's place kicking marvel, is a spot performer. Finn, a rookie, started at offensive tackle in the club's last 10 regular season games.

The Jets, allowed to make 10 roster changes through the regular schedule and playoffs, had used up eight before today and were considering another just before game time—the reactivating of pass-catcher Maynard, out for four weeks with a broken bone in his foot.

"Eight moves are as many as they allowed us last year," Ewbank said. "But we didn't have to make any then. We had as many injuries a couple of the years I was at Baltimore—and those were the years we didn't win championships."

Little Tigers Lose Prelim To Vikings, 55-46

Teays Valley also took the preliminary tilt Friday night in their annual grudge match with the Circleville JV squad, 55-46.

Boyer's boys never led in the tilt but kept the blanket on most of the game, not allowing the little Vikings to get a substantial lead.

Circleville was led in the scoring department by Rick Blankenship with 12 points on five buckets and two free throws.

Chuck Worthington won the TV shooting laurels with 15 markers on seven field goals and one charity shot.

STEVE Bumgardner netted ten for the winners to round out the visitors shooting attack.

Circleville tied the tilt for the last time with less than four minutes to go.

Boyer's boys trailed by six at the end of the first stanza, eight at halftime, only one at the end of the third canto and lost the tilt by nine, 55-46.

Navy Falls To Kentucky '5'

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Navy's gallant defense had just stripped some of the firepower from the Kentucky artillery and Wildcats' Coach Adolph Rupp was not at all happy about it.

"Sometimes I wonder if we've ever played before," said Rupp after his top-ranked Wildcats withstood a serious naval assault to topple the unranked Middies 73-59 in college basketball Friday night.

Navy's rib-sticking defense kept Kentucky's sharp-shooters off balance most of the night, but when it got too close near the end the Midshipmen gave the Wildcats the free throws that turned the tide.

The contest was the nightcap of a doubleheader, the first round of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament at Lexington. Duke stopped Dayton 72-67 in the opener.

Ranked teams were entered in other matches around the country as the holiday season ushered in a basketful of mid-tournament and double-headers.

Eighth-ranked Tennessee defeated Montana State 71-62 in the Volunteer Classic at Knoxville and third-ranked New Mexico State walloped Hardin Simmons 110-80 in the Cowboy Classic at Abilene, Tex. St. John's of New York shocked fourth-ranked Davidson 74-62 and Oklahoma City upset 11th-ranked Santa Clara 101-94 in other top games Friday night.

Kentucky, after a shaky start, built an early lead as the Wildcats hit 54.6 per cent of their shots in the first half. They led 41-25, at intermission, but a cold shooting spell in the second period helped Navy pull to within four, at 50-46.

Kentucky mainstay Mike Pratt later hit a 10-foot shot and Dan Issel—the game-high scorer with 40 points—converted four free throws and Larry Steele made one to pull the Wildcats away.

As it was, Pratt shot poorly—hitting only two of 10 from the field. Issel hit 14 of 26, most of them layups and tip-ins.

"Five of our players have final exams tomorrow (Saturday) but that's no excuse," chided Rupp. "It used to be when the professor made it tough on our kids, our kids took it out on the teams we played."

Bill Paultz scored 19 points and Joe DePre chipped in 17 as St. John's upset Davidson. Davidson's Brian Adrian, who entered the game with a 20.9 average, was held to nine points by the Redmen.

Jimmy England, Tennessee's playmaker, scored 26 points with some brilliant outside shooting and Don Johnson added 21 in the victory over stubborn Montana State. The lead changed hands seven times before the Vols sprinted ahead 36-32 at intermission and held the lead the rest of the way.

Jimmy Collins poured in 28 points to lead New Mexico State over Hardin Simmons.

Mike Wachob hit 13 of 14 free throws and nine of 15 field goal attempts for 31 points to pace Oklahoma City's upset of Santa Clara.

Tigers Lose Fray To Vikings, 84-75

B. BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

They had quite a battle at the Mill St. gym Friday night and when the clamor had died down Teays Valley was a winner over Circleville 84-75.

Whether your team had won or lost you had received full value for the price of your ticket. The noise alone was worth the price of admission as these neighborhood rivals staged a real duel for the fans.

The teams were fairly even from the field as the Vikings shot 31 of 65 for 48 per cent while the Tigers hit 29 of 61 for 49 per cent.

From the foul stripe Teays

Valley hit 22 of 29 for 76 per cent and Circleville had 17 of 29 for 59 per cent.

Circleville committed 15 turnovers, five in the last quarter that really hurt them. and Teays Valley was guilty ten times.

Dale Lambert again led the Vikings as he garnered 12 from the field and nine from the charity stripe for a total of 33 markers for the evening.

Logan Elm Edges Westfall Before Big Crowd, 77-66

Logan Elm edged Westfall before a capacity crowd at the Mustang gym in a real thriller that was even closer than the final 77-66 score would indicate.

Although Logan Elm led by as many as 14 points midway through the third quarter, the Mustangs managed to knot the score at 53-53 on a bucket by Tom Hawker just as the buzzer sounded ending the quarter.

The Mustangs were first on the scoreboard in the fourth period with a pair of foul shots by Greg Bigam, and led, 55-53. It was the only time in the tilt Westfall led.

Then Logan Elm reeled off 12 points taking a 10 point lead with 4:39 to go in the tilt. Westfall could get no closer than seven after that.

THE score was 19-15 at the end of the first period and 37-33 at halftime.

Midway through the third quarter Logan Elm led by 14 points, 50-36, but the Mustangs battled back to tie the score and then take the lead.

But in the fourth quarter, the only scoring done by Westfall was by Bigam and Bill Blair.

Logan Elm received a balanced scoring effort from nine players, with Dan Fausnaugh pitching in 32. Fausnaugh was popping shots in from the corners, 25 feet out and also led the L.E. fast break.

He hit 13 of 21 shots from the field and made all six of his chances at the charity stripe.

Mark Kneece was the only other Brave to hit double figures, connecting on five of nine shots from the field and two of four at the line.

ROD Riddle scored nine points, Dale Hartley and K. C. Jones eight each and Jeff Jones three.

Bigam and Blair led the Mustangs with 20 and 21 points respectively. Tom Hawker got 13, Bruce Beatty and Randy Alkire four, Rick Beatty and Steve Sines two.

Logan Elm controlled the rebounds, a key factor in the game. The Braves pulled 37 off the boards and the Mustangs 27.

From the charity stripe, the Braves made 23 of 31 attempts and Westfall made 32 of 24.

The Braves shot 54 times, making 27, an even 50 per cent. Westfall shot 54 times also, making 21, a 39 per cent average. Of the 54 shots that Westfall tried from the field, Blair and Bigam took 43.

Westfall stuck with the man to man defense that has become its trademark throughout the game. Logan Elm used a zone, sagging two men off on Bigam whenever possible to stop him from driving toward the bucket.

KNEECE, the tallest man on the floor at 6-feet 2-inches, was a key man on the Braves' defense, blocking several shots, especially in the final quarter.

Protecting a 10 point lead in the final three minutes of the game, Logan Elm began stalling and the Mustangs were forced to foul the Braves to get the ball.

Westfall's press was instrumental in the third quarter rally, but in the fourth quarter

Logan Elm cagers solved the defense and were not troubled too much with it.

Logan Elm now has a 3-2 record and Westfall has won three and lost four. Although both teams are members of the Scioto Valley conference, the game was not in league battle. The one "that counts" will be played Jan. 23 at Logan Elm.

HE'S AN OLD SMOOTHIE — Dan Fausnaugh was the sweetheart of Logan Elm cage fans Friday, scoring 32 points and leading the Braves to a win. Fausnaugh pitched points from 30 feet out, led the Braves' fast break and drove through the Mustangs as he scored from just about every angle. Navy Falls To Kentucky '5'

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Navy's gallant defense had just stripped some of the firepower from the Kentucky artillery and Wildcats' Coach Adolph Rupp was not at all happy about it.

"Sometimes I wonder if we've ever played before," said Rupp after his top-ranked Wildcats withstood a serious naval assault to topple the unranked Middies 73-59 in college basketball Friday night.

Navy's rib-sticking defense kept Kentucky's sharpshooters off balance most of the night, but when it got too close near the end the Midshipmen gave the Wildcats the free throws that turned the tide.

The contest was the nightcap of a doubleheader, the first round of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament at Lexington. Duke stopped Dayton 72-67 in the opener.

Ranked teams were entered in other matches around the country as the holiday season ushered in a basketful of mid-term tournaments and double-headers.

Eighth-ranked Tennessee defeated Montana State 71-62 in the Volunteer Classic at Knoxville and third-ranked New Mexico State walloped Hardin Simmons 110-80 in the Cowboy Classic at Abilene, Tex. St. John's of New York shocked fourth-ranked Davidson 74-62 and Oklahoma City upset 11th-ranked Santa Clara 101-94 in other top games Friday night.

Kentucky, after a shaky start, built an early lead as the Wildcats hit 54.6 per cent of their shots in the first half. They led 41-25, at intermission, but a cold shooting spell in the second period helped Navy pull to within four, at 50-46.

Kentucky mainstay Mike Pratt later hit a 10-foot shot and Dan Issel—the game-high scorer with 40 points—converted four free throws and Larry Steele made one to pull the Wildcats away.

As it was, Pratt shot poorly—hitting only two of 10 from the field. Issel hit 14 of 26, most of them layups and tip-ins.

"Five of our players have final exams tomorrow (Saturday) but that's no excuse," chided Rupp. "It used to be when the professor made it tough on our kids, our kids took it out on the teams we played."

Bill Paulitz scored 19 points and Joe DePre chipped in 17 as St. John's upset Davidson. Davidson's Brian Adrian, who entered the game with a 20.9 average, was held to nine points by the Redmen.

Jimmy England, Tennessee's playmaker, scored 26 points with some brilliant outside shooting and Don Johnson added 21 in the victory over stubborn Montana State. The lead changed hands seven times before the Vols sprinted ahead 36-32 at intermission and held the lead the rest of the way.

Pro Football Nears Season Finales

All of the conference races are over as the National Football League moves into the final weekend of regular season action but it's far from a so-called wrapup for several teams. Four in particular—Minnesota, Los Angeles, Cleveland and Dallas—are prepping for next week's first round of playoffs as the Super Bowl countdown moves into high gear. They'll all be trying to stay sharp and avoid any injuries in Sunday's games.

Today, attention focuses on the American League with Kansas City at New York in the opening AFL playoff. On Sunday, Houston plays at Oakland with the winners meeting a week later for the AFL crown.

Minnesota prepares for next Saturday's playoff game against Los Angeles by meeting Atlanta Sunday and the Vikings can't afford to let up.

They've won 12 straight games—second longest one-season winning streak in NFL history. They can tie the mark of 13 set by the unbeaten Chicago Bears 35 years ago.

And with only 123 points allowed, Minnesota has an excellent shot at erasing the 14-game record low of 1 set by Chicago Bears in 1963 and matched by Baltimore in 1968.

Los Angeles has dropped two straight and will try to reverse that trend against Baltimore. The Rams, at 11-2, are still one victory short of a club single season victory record.

The Cleveland Browns need a victory at New York in their wrapup game to match their club record for victories in a single season and post their best season mark since 1953. The Browns were 11-1 that season and take a 10-2-1 log into Sunday's match with the Giants.

New York has won its last two games and the Giants, believe it or not, are the only team to beat powerful Minnesota this season. Waiting in the wings for the Browns in the Eastern title game are the Dallas Cowboys, who take a 10-2-1 mark in the regular season finale against Washington.

The Redskins are 7-4-2 and certain of their first winning season since 1955.

Detroit, 8-4-1, can wrap up third place money in the West with a victory or tie against hapless Chicago. The Bears, 1-12, are completing their worst season in history with the only consolation Gale Sayers, who leads all NFL rushers with 972 yards—103 more than runnerup Cal Hill of Dallas.

Philadelphia and San Francisco tangle on the West Coast with little at stake while Pittsburgh at New Orleans and St. Louis at Green Bay complete the schedule.

The pass receiving title could be decided on the Steeler-Saints game with Pittsburgh's Roy Jefferson and New Orleans' Dan Abramowicz clashing head to head and trying to beat out Washington's Charley Taylor. All three have 65 catches, Jefferson for 1,052 yards, Abramowicz for 886 and Taylor for 823.

The New York Yankees have never beaten Detroit Tiger pitcher John Hiller. He has beaten them five times.

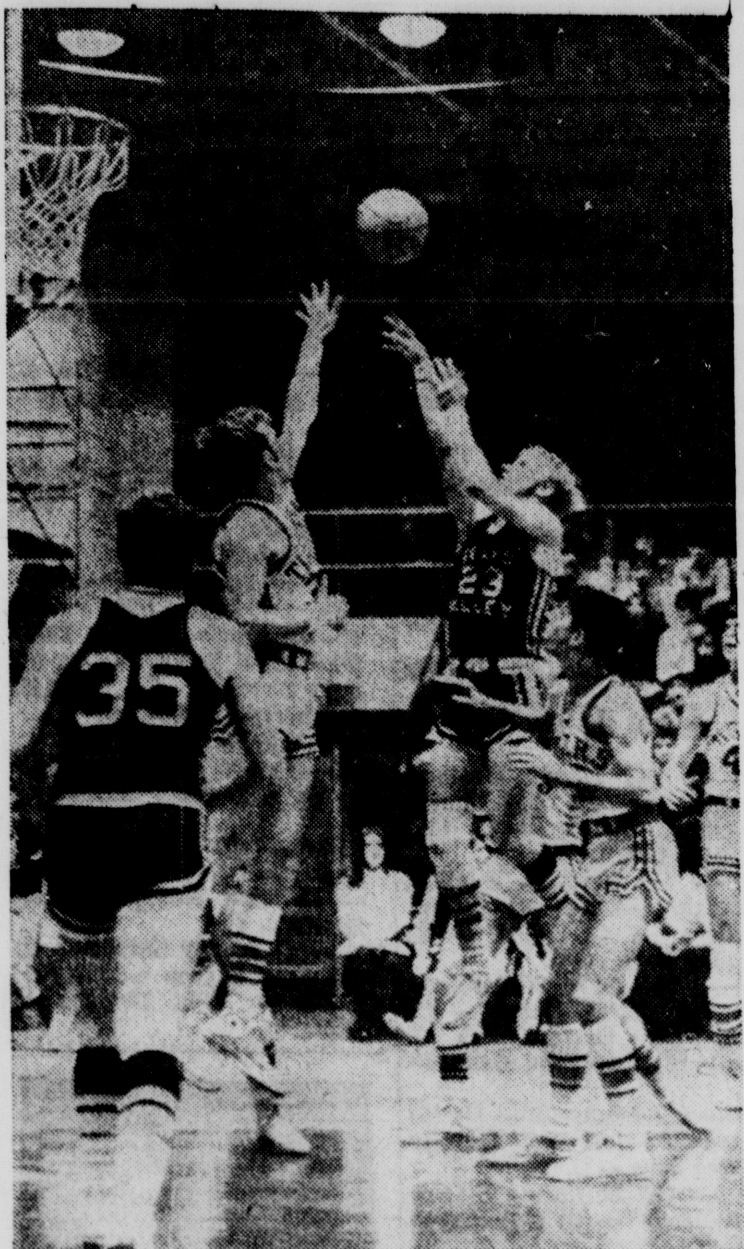

Ellis-Peralta Fight Off; Money Low

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — It was a wasted trip for Jimmy Ellis, World Boxing Association heavyweight champion.

His title bout with Argentine challenger Gregorio Peralta was called off Friday night—24 hours before fight time—because of financial problems.

Angelo Dundee, Ellis' manager, and local promoter Hector Mendez announced that the scheduled 15-round bout, plagued by problems from the beginning, had been called off.

Cot Deal, who manages Oklahoma City in the American Association, is managing San Juan in the Puerto Rican League.

DALE DAZZLES — Dale Lambert lets one fly for the bucket as the Tigers watch in amazement. Ty Ankrom of the Tigers makes an effort to stop the launch as Bryce Brown and Tom Bowers can't seem to believe their eyes. John Glick moves into position for a better view of the action. Lambert had 33 markers to lead the Vikings to a 84-75 win over the Tigers.

Teays Valley threatened to break the game open in the third period as they pulled out to a 57-45 lead but the scrappy Tigers fought back as Ankrom and Lutz hit from all angles and they narrowed the margin to 61-55 at the close of the quarter.

The Tigers committed several turnovers early in the last period and it was costly as Teays Valley picked up three quick buckets.

It was just the margin Coach Hoover's boys needed for victory despite a tremendous effort by Ankrom as he hit the cords for fourteen points in the final stanza.

The Tigers' Bryce Brown reinjured his knee in period four and it hampered him while the Vikings lost Ed McCord on fouls.

Mike Hull won the game shooting laurels with ten buckets and seven free throws for the Greenfield team. Steve Wisecup canned 15 for the winners while Steve Curry had 14.

Teays Valley threatened to break the game open in the third period as they pulled out to a 57-45 lead but the scrappy Tigers fought back as Ankrom and Lutz hit from all angles and they narrowed the margin to 61-55 at the close of the quarter.

The Tigers committed several turnovers early in the last period and it was costly as Teays Valley picked up three quick buckets.

It was just the margin Coach Hoover's boys needed for victory despite a tremendous effort by Ankrom as he hit the cords for fourteen points in the final stanza.

The Tigers' Bryce Brown reinjured his knee in period four and it hampered him while the Vikings lost Ed McCord on fouls.

When the final buzzer sounded the board declared Teays Valley the winner 84-75 but win lose

Washington Upset, 77-63, By GF McClain

Greenfield upset the league leading Washington C. H. Blue Lions, 77-63, on the McClain court while Wilmington, playing out of the SCOL, were destroyed by the Dayton Carroll squad, 86-45.

Greenfield trailed by three points at halftime after taking a one point margin at the end of the first period but came back in the third canto to lead by five, 52-47.

Greenfield hit 42 per cent from the field in their win hitting on 28 shots. Washington hit 23 field goals in the tilt and 45 per cent. The Tigers netted 70 per cent of their shots from the charity line and WCH hit 57 per cent with 17.

Mike Hull won the game shooting laurels with ten buckets and seven free throws for the Greenfield team. Steve Wisecup canned 15 for the winners while Steve Curry had 14.

Dave DeWeese led the Court House squad with seven goals and four free throws for 18 markers. Steve Bowers had 16.

TEAYS Valley now stands at 7-2 on the season and will travel to Miami Trace tonight to battle the Panthers.

Circleville is now 1-6 on the season but are looking for better days.

Circleville will be idle until the second of January when they will travel to Hillsboro for a contest with the Indians.

In Memoriam

A tribute of love at Christmas to the memory of our beloved husband, dad and dad, James Speakman who passed away Feb.
15, 1968.
Christmas comes again dear Jim leaving thoughts of you that will never fade away. We mourn for you in silence. No eyes can see us, but many a silent tear is shed while others are asleep.
Beautiful memories you left with us. We often get homesick to see you in your new mansion above.
We are hoping to meet you, and time we can not tell, but oh what a happy reunion.
Missed by wife, children and grandchildren

In memory of Carl Weiden White.
He is gone but not forgotten and as dawn another year.
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us.
Friends may think the wound is healed
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.
Sadly missed by wife, son, daughter and grandchildren

In Memoriam

A tribute of love at Christmas to the memory of our beloved Husband, dad and dad dad, James Speakman who passed away Feb. 15, 1968.

Christmas comes again dear Jim leaving thoughts of you that will never fade away. We mourn for you in silence. No eyes can see us weep but many a silent tear is shed while others are asleep. Beautiful memories you left with us. We often get homesick to see you in your new mansion above. We are hoping to meet you, the time we can not tell, but on what a happy reunion.

Missed by wife, children and grandchildren

In memory of Carl Weldon White. He is gone but not forgotten. And as dawn another year. In our lonely hours of thinking. Thoughts of him are always near. Days of sadness will come over us. Friends may think the wound is healed. But they little know the sorrow That lies within our hearts concealed.

Sadly missed by wife, son, daughter and grandchildren

Namath, New York Face A Big Weekend

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway Joe Namath and the New York Jets reach the end of the line this weekend when Kansas City and Oakland figure to make it an all-Western final for the American Football league title Jan. 4.

Kansas City is slightly favored over the Jets Saturday at Shea Stadium and Oakland is a heavy favorite over the Houston Oilers in Oakland Sunday.

The AFL has the big action this weekend while the National Football League closes out its regular season with all four division titles already clinched.

Last week's 11-2 record made it 118-43-8 for the year. One more last try. All games Sunday unless otherwise indicated.

AFL

Kansas City 24, New York 20 (Saturday)—The Jets are all souped up with that old Super Bowl spirit but Don Maynard has to remain a questionable factor and both Gerry Philbin and Randy Rasmussen will be playing with injuries. Jim Kearney and Curley Culp only chief problems. Game should hinge on ability of Chiefs' line to protect Len Dawson and give him time to pick on Jets' secondary. It will take a super effort by Namath against a strong rush that dumped him three times and picked off three passes in 34-16 Kansas City triumph Nov. 16. So far this year, Joe hasn't been super. Maybe the big money will bring it out.

Oakland 24, Houston 17—Raiders won't let this big one get away after winning west from Chiefs last week. In season opener Raiders beat Oilers 21-17, their fifth straight in the series. Darryl Lamonica will miss Warren Wells, doubtful because of a shoulder injury, but he will be putting that ball in the air. Oilers bank on Pete Beathard, despite slight ankle sprain, speedy Jerry Levis and steady Hoyle Granger to score an upset. Al Davis still wants that Super Bowl win and won't accept any more detours.

NFL

Minnesota 27, Atlanta 10—Vikings won't let this big one get away after winning west from Bears' record streak of 1934. It will take a lot of magic by their old boss, Norm Van Brocklin to throw them off stride at this stage. Vikings have to be looking ahead to rematch with Rams next Saturday but they won't overlook perky Falcons.

Los Angeles 21, Baltimore 14—Rams wrecked the Colts on opening day, 27-20, but are in slump. Count on George Allen to straighten things out before he takes Rams into the snow country for another go at Vikings.

San Francisco 28, Philadelphia 21—The 49ers have been showing plenty of offense down the stretch while Eagles will be hurting without Tom Woodeshick. Eagle pass defense will have a busy day.

Dallas 27, Washington 21—This could be an upset. Redskins are breathing fire with best record since 1955 and would like to close it out with a win. Sonny Jurgensen always gives Cowboys fits. Tom Landry's new pass defense gets another trial from a master. Cowboys should win it, tightening up for Cleveland next Sunday.

New York 24, Cleveland 21—Giants almost came back in earlier game at Cleveland and are anxious to close out year with three-game win string. Browns methodically getting ready for the big game at Dallas have to be looking ahead. Fran Tarkenton at his best in this kind of a game.

Detroit 21, Chicago 14—The end of a horror season for the Bears, shaken by internal problems. Gale Sayers remains one bright spot, only 28 yards short of 1,000-yard mark. Lions man-handled Rams last week behind Bill Munson can clinch third money with win or tie.

Green Bay 21, St. Louis 10—The Pack didn't exactly make it back all the way but they have beaten Cards in five of their last six meetings and new attack seems to be coming around for Don Hutson. Cards troubled situation may cost Charley Winner his job.

New Orleans 30, Pittsburgh 21—With Roy Jefferson of the Steelers and Dan Abramowicz of the Saints battling with Washington's Charley Taylor for the pass catching title (each has 63), the poor pass defenders of these clubs are in for a long afternoon. A wild one with the rising Saints hitting a new high of five wins.

Bud Poile Ousted By Philly Flyers
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Norman R. "Bud" Poile has been dismissed as general manager of the Philadelphia Flyers of the National Hockey League. The announcement was made Thursday night by Ed Snider, chairman of the board of the club.

"There are no hard feelings involved," Snider said. "I wish Bud the best of success wherever he goes."

Bucks Beat Rockets; Win, 102-97
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rookie Skeeter Swift of the New Orleans Buccaneers is aptly named.

Swift came off the bench with 7:04 left to play and the Bucks trailing Denver 82-80, made several quick steals, scored four fast points and helped the Bucks beat the Rockets 102-97 in the American Basketball Association Friday night.

The victory, 22nd against 10 losses, kept New Orleans a comfortable 6½ games in front of Los Angeles and Washington in the Western Division.

In other ABA games, Los Angeles whipped Washington 119-109, Indiana defeated Carolina 92-88, and Pittsburgh edged the New York Nets 126-124.

New Orleans outscored Denver 21-8 in the final seven minutes, to wrap up the victory. Jackie Moreland paced the Bucks with 33 points. Denver's Spencer Haywood hit for 39.

Los Angeles scored 11 straight points in the fourth quarter to defeat Washington and move into a tie for second in the West with the Caps. Both teams are deadlocked with 500 records.

In the Eastern Division, Indiana maintained its five game margin over idle Kentucky by surviving a 45-41 halftime deficit against Carolina and holding on until the final quarter when Bob Netolicky scored 10 points to put the Pacers ahead to stay.

The Nets were in the game until the final seconds, when Barry Orms sank two fouls in a three-for-two situation to win it for the Pacers.

Namath, New York Face A Big Weekend

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway Joe Namath and the New York Jets reach the end of the line this weekend when Kansas City and Oakland figure to make it an all-Western final for the American Football league title Jan. 4.

Kansas City is slightly favored over the Jets Saturday at Shea Stadium and Oakland is a heavy favorite over the Houston Oilers in Oakland Sunday.

The AFL has the big action this weekend while the National Football League closes out its regular season with all four division titles already clinched.

Last week's 11-2 record made it 118-43-8 for the year. One more last try. All games Sunday unless otherwise indicated.

AFL

Kansas City 24, New York 20 (Saturday)—The Jets are all souped up with that old Super Bowl spirit but Don Maynard has to remain a questionable factor and both Gerry Philbin and Randy Rasmussen will be playing with injuries. Jim Kearney and Curley Culp only Chief problems. Game should hinge on ability of Chiefs' line to protect Len Dawson and give him time to pick on Jets' secondary. It will take a super effort by Namath against a strong rush that dumped him three times and picked off three passes in 34-16 Kansas City triumph Nov. 16. So far this year, Joe hasn't been super. Maybe the big money will bring it out.

Oakland 24, Houston 17—Raiders won't let this big one get away after winning west from Chiefs last week. In season opener Raiders beat Oilers 21-17, their fifth straight in the series. Daryle Lamonica will miss Warren Wells, doubtful because of a shoulder injury, but he will be putting that ball in the air. Oilers bank on Pete Beathard, despite slight ankle sprain, speedy Jerry Levis and steady Hoyle Granger to score an upset. Al Davis still wants that Super Bowl win and won't accept any more detours.

NFL

Minnesota 27, Atlanta 10—Vikings went 13th straight to tie Bears' record streak of 1934. It will take a lot of magic by their old boss, Norm Van Brocklin to throw them off stride at this stage. Vikings have to be looking ahead to rematch with Rams next Saturday but they won't overlook perky Falcons.

Los Angeles 21, Baltimore 14—Rams wrecked the Colts on opening day, 27-20, but are in slump. Count on George Allen to straighten things out before he takes Rams into the snow country for another go at Vikings.

San Francisco 28, Philadelphia 21—The 49ers have been showing plenty of offense down the stretch while Eagles will be hurting without Tom Woodeshick. Eagle pass defense will have a busy day.

Dallas 27, Washington 21—This could be an upset. Redskins are breathing fire with best record since 1955 and would like to close it out with a win. Sonny Jurgensen always gives Cowboys fits. Tom Landry's new pass defense gets another trial from a master. Cowboys should win it, tightening up for Cleveland next Sunday.

New York 24, Cleveland 21—Giants almost came back in earlier game at Cleveland and are anxious to close out year with three-game win string. Browns methodically getting ready for the big game at Dallas have to be looking ahead. Fran Tarkenton at his best in this kind of a game.

Detroit 21, Chicago 14—The end of a horror season for the Bears, shaken by internal problems. Gale Sayers remains one bright spot, only 28 yards short of 1,000-yard mark. Lions man-handled Rams last week behind Bill Munson can clinch third money with win or tie.

Green Bay 21, St. Louis 10—The Pack didn't exactly make it back all the way but they have beaten Cards in five of their last six meetings and new attack seems to be coming around for Don H. Cars troubled situation may cost Charley Winner his job.

New Orleans 30, Pittsburgh 21—With Roy Jefferson of the Steelers and Dan Abramowicz of the Saints battling with Washington's Charley Taylor for the pass catching title (each has 65), the poor pass defenders of these clubs are in for a long afternoon. A wild one with the rising Saints hitting a new high of five wins.

Bud Poile Ousted By Philly Flyers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Norman R. "Bud" Poile has been dismissed as general manager of the Philadelphia Flyers of the National Hockey League. The announcement was made Thursday night by Ed Snider, chairman of the board of the club.

"There are no hard feelings involved," Snider said. "I wish Bud the best of success wherever he goes."

Farmers To Face Many Problems In 1970

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before he left office last January the Johnson administration's top farm official warned that the explosive production capacity of American agriculture was a bomb as well as a blessing.

Year after year, said Orville Freeman, farmers have had the ability to out-produce markets. No single farmer, he said, "has a big enough thumb" to hold this cantankerous genie in the bottle.

And 1969 has been another of those times when U.S. farm production outstripped demand. Even with more than 50 million acres held from production under various government programs, crop output this year was more than anyone needed.

Assets of U.S. farms total nearly $300 million. Gross income in 1969 probably will exceed $52 billion, and net income may be around $16 billion, the fourth highest on record.

But, as it was each year for most of its history, U.S. agriculture is at a new crossroads. The genie which has haunted Democratic administration officials through most of the decade now is pushing hard on the thumb of the Republicans.

Stockpiles of many crops have risen dramatically. Farm exports last fiscal year were the least since 1963, tumbling more than $2 billion from the $6.8 billion peak in 1966-67. And the outlook for 1969-70 is not much improved.

Last Jan. 20 Clifford M. Hardin succeeded Freeman as agriculture secretary. The former chancellor of the University of Nebraska has moved cautiously into the Washington arena.

Farm programs of the past 35 years have not worked, Hardin said. New approaches to old problems must be found. New horizons must be scanned.

The farmer must be given more freedom, more elbow room to make decisions. He must rely more on free markets and less on government hand-outs for his income, the new administration said.

But there was no "Hardin Plan" forthcoming. No detailed, hard-nosed bill sternly handed to Congress on a take-it-or-leave-it basis as a GOP panacea for agricultural ills.

The low-key approach by Hardin indicated an awareness not only of the political realities—Democratic domination of congressional farm committees and the absence of an effective farm bloc—but recognition that increasingly more members are sensitive about rising farm program costs, consumer interests and the vast complexities of food programs for the poor, food inspection and rural develop-

Advise Chief 8 Officers Need Fired

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police Chief Robert Baus was advised Friday to fire eight policemen acquitted of federal gambling conspiracy charges if they refuse to answer questions concerning revelations from the lengthy trial.

Baus had asked City Attorney John C. Young for guidance on how to proceed with departmental action against the officers.

Young urged Baus to wait for the official transcript of the trial before deciding whether specific charges of misfeasance or malfeasance should be filed against any of the eight officers.

Since a transcript of the trial will not be prepared for about 20 days, Young said a charge of insubordination would be Baus' most handy tool.

Several jurors commented after the verdict they felt violations of state law had been shown, but they did not believe a federal conspiracy was proved.

The policemen were returned to duty Friday on "non-sensitive" assignments.

U.S. To Ease Red China Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans to announce three steps aimed at easing U.S. trade restrictions with Communist China, Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott told reporters Friday.

Scott, a Pennsylvania Republican, said he was informed by the White House of the President's intention to make such an announcement later in the day and said, in response to a question, that it was designed in part to show the United States is interested in substantive discussions with Red China at Warsaw.

ment in which the Agriculture Department plays major roles.

The long hangup over the department's $7.5 billion appropriations bill for 1969-70 was caused, in part, by a Senate-House rift over limiting government payments to individual farmers to $20,000 a year.

Hardin opposed the ceiling for the current year, but told Congress a limitation could be built into new legislation succeeding the Food and Agriculture Act which expires at the end of 1970.

Meanwhile, Hardin and congressional leaders continued their quest for a consensus on acceptable farm plans. By late in the session many believed the current program would be juggled, reshaped and relabeled as a successor to the 1965 law which governed individual crops on an annual basis.

Against this background, American farmers planted, tilled and harvested in 1969 some of the largest crops on record—despite the government's farm programs restricting acreage and propping up prices.

The nearly $16 billion net income predicted for 1969 would be exceeded only by $16.3 billion in 1968; slightly more than $16 billion in 1948 and the record of $17.3 billion in 1947.

Aside from near-record prices for some livestock during the year, the main factor in the income boost—perhaps $1.2 billion more than in 1968—was the remarkably high yields and total output of major crops.

The Agriculture Department's "all crops" production index by November was running at a record 20 per cent more than the 1957-59 average, while yields per acre averaged 30 per cent more.

Crops of corn, wheat, soybeans and other livestock feed grains contributed to the bumper harvests.

Sixteen Place In St. Joseph Project Fair

Weeks of hard work and study paid off for 12 students at St. Joseph school in a geography fair held recently.

Members of grades four through seven entered projects in the competition. Students earning ribbons for their achievements were:

Grade 4: Evelyn Doritan, first; Paula Gurney, second; Philip Cuellar, third; Joan Goode, Linda Rhodes, honorable Bruno, honorable mention.

Grade 5: Carl Strittmatter, first; David Uland, second; Paul Monarski, third; Michael Burno, honorable mention.

Grade 6: Michael Monarski, first; Rita Schuer, second; William Bruno, third; Laura Mehalick, honorable mention.

Grade 7: Audrey May, first; Mary Jo Carle, second; Elizabeth Goeller, third; Theresa Chelikowsky, honorable mention.

TOP HONORS — Winners in the Project Fair recently held at St. Joseph school are, from the left: Mike Monarski, Carl Strittmatter, David Uland, Paul Monarski; first row standing, Evelyn Doritan, Philip Cuellar, Rita Schuer, Paula Gurney; second row, Audrey May, Libby Goeller and Mary Jo Carle. Not present was William Bruno.

But for cotton growers, 1969 was almost a bust. Poor growing weather throughout much of the production area cut deeply into yields, estimated at the lowest in at least a dozen years.

By November the department's official cotton estimate had dropped nearly two million bales from late-summer forecasts. To help offset the decline, the government announced a one million acre increase in allotments for 1970 in an attempt to rebuild reserves.

Livestock producers, particularly of beef cattle and hogs, saw prices rise to near-record peaks during the year. Choice beef cattle at Chicago in June, for example, rose to around $35 per hundredweight.

Nationally, beef cattle were the highest last spring since the Korean War, and lent added fuel to the upward inflation spiral. Consumer groups protested high costs of meat, and congressional hearings were held to determine causes.

By fall, cattle prices had slipped $6 to $8 below their earlier peaks, and the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported some easing in retail meat prices.

The outlook continued favorable for steady to stronger cattle and hog prices through midwinter, at least, due to high consumer demand and little increase in total red meat supplies.

Milk output continued its five-year decline and was estimated to total 1 per cent less than in 1968, making a yearly reduction of around 10 billion pounds since the peak in 1964.

But dairymen, although milking fewer total cows, enjoyed higher prices for the reduced output.

But the statistics fail to tell the entire story. Not every farmer raised beef cattle—or sold them at peak prices in June. Not every farmer raised bumper crops of wheat, corn or soybeans.

Part of farming's complexity and its mystique lies in the fact that few operators are "average" or till "average" acres or produce "average" harvests.

About 10 million people—5 per cent of the population—live on about three million farms. They gross more than $50 billion a year from sale of farm products, jobs off the land, govern-

Deny Pollution Hearing Rigged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The chairman of the Ohio Air Pollution Control Board denied Friday charges that a recent air pollution hearing in Cincinnati was rigged to give industry the most time to be heard.

The criticism came from four leaders in the fields of religion, labor and health who attended the Cincinnati hearings Wednesday.

Dr. Emmet W. Arnold, state health director and chairman of the OAPCB, said the hearings "are wide open and any person so desiring can have a statement placed in the record."

ment payments and all other sources.

In 1968 they spent $36.4 billion of what they took in on expenses required in production. This left a net of $14.8 billion.

If the estimate of $16 billion net is realized in 1969, undoubtedly total expenses will be larger. By fall, the Crop Reporting Board's index showing the level of prices farmers have to pay rose to a record 376 per cent of the 1910-14 average.

But parity—a measure of farm prices in relation to expenses—averaged only around 73 per cent of the historical average. In other words, as some economists put it, farmers receive only about three-fourths of what their fair share is supposed to be.

Nixon administration farm officials have said the problems of commercial agriculture should be separated from those of the smaller, less-successful operators.

The second one-third have earnings of less than $10,000 a year and produce only 15 per cent of the goods. The remainder, say department officials, are "residential" or farms where people live but work in town or for other farmers. They turn out less than 5 per cent of the country's farm products.
